The War Today

By GUY RHOADES

BATTLE SOON

An imminent collision between British Imperial troops and German mechanized advance units in Greece appeared certain today as Greek troops, isolated in Macedonia by the German push to Salonika, fought on with little hope of aid.

Jugoslav and Greek forces raced to crush the Italian army in Albania before German help being rushed across southern Yugoslavia could be advanced to effective positions.

Across the Greek Peninsula from a point near Salonika on the Aegean to Chimara, Albania, on the Adriatic, the British expeditionary force was reported to have established a defence line along which it awaited the Germans.

UNTENABLE

British and Greek authorities apparently decided days ago that Salonika was untenable against a land offensive launched, as the German one was, by mechanized forces dashing down the last few level miles of the Vardar Valley. The line, therefore, was established a little south of the city, chief Macedonian port, where the country is less even.

Number of British troops in Greece remained undisclosed, but persons who saw them go ashore said they were equipped with gleaming new equipment and some reconditioned vehicles brought from the tough African campaign which has resulted in conquest of almost all Italy's empire.

SHATTERED

Italy, with substantial German aid, apparently was seeking to recoup her shattered African fortunes by a counteroffensive in Libya where combined Italo-German advances across the desert were reported.

The fall of Massawa, chief Eritrean port, was said to have practically washed up the east African affair and it was assumed forces hitherto engaging the Italians there would be available for reinforcing the Greek expeditionary troops or for a counter-blow against the Italo-German units operating in the desert.

DESTROYED

While interest centred in the Balkans the air war in the north gathered momentum. Berlin suffered a heavy R.A.F. raid and authorities there admitted the State Opera House, among other buildings on the Unter den Linden, was destroyed by incendiary bombs. The Germans, as usual, admitted no military damage.

BASES POUNDED

The Berlin raid followed a day and night pounding of German shipbuilding and industrial areas which resulted in enormous damage from fire and blast, damage which probably will delay or curtail considerably the German submarine and surface craft construction program.

Britain suffered heavy raids and Birmingham reported numerous buildings and dwellings damaged with undetermined but possibly heavy civilian casualties. Newcastle was attacked.

Whether the increased tempo of the raids presaged a Nazi invasion attempt or merely reflected improved weather conditions was not indicated.

Women to Man Guns

LONDON (CP)—Women soon will be "manning" gun stations and searchlights.

David Margesson, Secretary for War, and Harold Balfour, Under-Secretary for Air, informed the Commons that the Auxiliary Territorial Service and the Women's Auxiliary Air Force are to be granted status as members of the armed forces of the crown and will be greatly increased in numbers.

It is not expected that women will be actually firing guns but they will do important work such as checking sights and ranges.

Diplomats Quit Hungary

LONDON (CP)—A Budapest news agency message quoted by the BBC tonight said members of the British, Belgian and Netherlands legations in Hungary had left there today for Moscow. There were no other details.

No Times Tomorrow

Good Friday will be a holiday for this newspaper. The next regular edition will be published on Saturday.

The German aircraft was hotly engaged and when last seen was on fire, losing height and out of control. "No casualty or damage was sustained by Princess Elizabeth."

Gets 6 Years

CAYUGA, Ont. (CP)—An assize jury this afternoon convicted Jacob Moyer, 34, of Newry Caledonia, charged with murder in connection with the death of Pte. Norman Merriam, of a reduced charge of manslaughter, and he was sentenced by Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay to six years in the Kingston Penitentiary.

Auzzies Near Objective

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Sales of war savings certificates in Australia now total $60,000,000, the Australian Broadcasting Corporation reported today. The objective is $80,000,000.

Stock Overseas Bases

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diversification of all U.S. army transport vessels to carrying troops and supplies between the continental United States and American overseas possessions and bases was disclosed this afternoon by the war department.

The new steps coincided with a White House announcement bringing Greenland into the hemispherical defence system. In conformity with the order to hold confidential further military information about the overseas bases, inquiries about whether American troops had been or would be sent to Greenland met with an official "no comment."

The ban on information, officials explained, represented merely an extension of existing regulations governing confidential matter and does not involve censorship of news from overseas possessions.

British, Greek Forces Braced For Vital Battle

Associated Press

A German offensive that cut Greece in two and virtually isolated Yugoslavia set the stage today for a decisive battle between Britain's Balkan expeditionary force and the Nazi military machine.

With eastern Thrace and northern Macedonia engulfed in Hitler's drive to the east, the British forces were reported completing a new defence line stretching across the Greek peninsula from a point southwest of Salonika to the Albanian port of Chimara on the Adriatic Sea.

Although the Greeks asserted the remnants of their Macedonian army encircled by the Germans north and east of Salonika still were holding out in a fight to death, it appeared that hopes for stemming the Nazi push hinged on the new defence line.

Reports from the front indicated that Yugoslavia would be compelled to fight a separate battle.

Greeks Say Main Army Intact

The Greek army remains intact "to deal a decisive blow at the German invader with Allied support," Greek military sources in Athens declared, despite the entrapment of some forces in north-eastern Greece.

"The main Greek army will strike at the right time and the right place," the military informants reiterated confidently.

"The battle for Greek independence, first won on Mount Pindus—where the Italian attack from Albania was thrown back last October—will be repeated again in Greek mountains where in past centuries invaders have been stopped."

Nazi Columns Blasted By R.A.F.

German troop-carrying motor vehicles were "systematically machine-gunned" by British bombers and fighters from low altitudes in the Kilikis and Polycastion areas, north of Salonika, a Royal Air Force communiqué said, although bad weather conditions interfered with air operations. German casualties were described as heavy.

Bridges in the Axiopolis zone, 30 miles northwest of Salonika, came in for particular attention, it was said. The British lost no planes.

Earlier a Greek spokesman had said the forces cut off in north-eastern Greece were fighting without hope of help from the main Greek army.

There was no indication of the number of Greek troops still holding out against the Germans there.

It was stated the Greeks had concentrated some 300,000 men along the Bulgarian frontier some time ago, but Greek reports indicated a large number of these had been withdrawn in time to avoid being cut off.

FIRST PICTURE GERMAN INVASION OF JUGOSLAVIA—This radiophoto shows an outpost of Yugoslavia in flames as a result of German bombardment. German soldiers in the foreground.

The withdrawal from Salonika, backdoor to the Balkans, and the destruction of oil tanks and other points were accomplished before the Nazis reached the city, the Greeks asserted.

This, they said, was made possible by heroic Greek resistance which delayed the Germans in the region of Kilikis, in the Vardar Valley.

The German breakthrough in the Struma Valley and the retreat of Yugoslavs, leaving the Greek left flank exposed, made the fall of Salonika inevitable, they said. But with torch and explosives the Greeks destroyed everything of military value in Salonika before abandoning the port to German forces. Emmanuel Spanakis, Associated Press correspondent, declared on his arrival in Athens today.

Left on Last Ship Out of Salonika

Spanakis, the last newspaperman to leave the city before the Germans entered, declared:

"I left Salonika on the last ship to depart from the port."

"Flames were roaring hundreds of feet into the air from blazing warehouses, oil tanks and airport facilities."

"Blasts from exploding dynamite roared across the deserted harbor as cranes and everything of military value were blown up."

"Hours later, the flames still could be seen from a distance of more than 60 miles."

Strong Greek defences in the area north and east of Salonika, along the Bulgarian frontier at Rupel Pass and farther to the east on the Nevrokop Plateau, all were sliced off by the Nazi drive down the Vardar from Yugoslavia to Salonika.

"Despite the difficult position which thereby was created for our troops in eastern Macedonia, their resistance was unshaken and they maintained their lines, according to information received," a Greek army communiqué said. This referred to last night.

Allies Will Choose Scene of Battle

"The possibility of a Yugoslav retreat, as well as the cutting off of Greek forces in Macedonia and Thrace, had been foreseen by the Greek command," the Athens radio declared. "The decisive battle will be given where strategic conditions demand it. The war goes on and will go on."

"We know how to fight and will not be influenced by unfavorable turns. Nothing can shake us until final victory."

Athens was under an air raid alert for 2 hours and 10 minutes last night, and the Greek Ministry of Home Security disclosed that German planes had dropped magnetic mines in Piraeus, port of Athens, doubly important as an entry point for British supplies now that Salonika has fallen.

It appeared that the British

2,000,000 FIGHTING MEN FACE HITLER'S BALKAN BLITZKRIEG—Mapped here are troop concentrations in the great Balkan war, with arrows indicating main drives of the Nazi blitzkrieg. Italy has about 300,000 men in Albania, Greece about 150,000 there.

(In Budapest an unconfirmed rumor circulated that German troops had entered Belgrade, bomb-blasted capital of Yugoslavia.)

The Yugoslavs, meanwhile, were making a desperate effort to cut through the Italian lines in Albania and join the Greeks near Lake Ochrida, but they were said to be still some 50 miles from their objective.

Jugoslavs Make Supreme Effort

(In London the Yugoslav legation said the Yugoslav army was making a "supreme effort" to break down the German front.)

One Yugoslav column, driving down along the Albanian coast, was reported attempting to force a crossing of the Mati River, about 31 miles north of the Albanian capital Tirana, capturing Scutari and Alessio in a 35-mile advance.

Military observers expressed belief, however, that the British navy must act quickly to force a passage of the Straits of Otranto between Italy and Albania and open a sea lane to Yugoslavia if military aid and United States war material is to reach her before she may be overwhelmed.

In Berlin the German high command claimed that in a thrust toward the Albanian border and after crossing the Vardar River, Tetovo and Prilep were taken "besides 20,000 prisoners captured, as reported yesterday, about 100 pieces of artillery, several hundred machine guns, large quantities of motor fuel, ammunition and other equipment left into our hands," said the communiqué.

In Rome the Italian high command said that in northwestern Yugoslavia in the Julian Alps the advance of their troops was continuing in the Sava River valley beyond Kranj.

In Berlin a German military spokesman claimed Greek prisoners captured in Thrace numbered more than 80,000 but that the "final number will be much greater," since the count is not yet finished.

Enemy to Try Air Force Attack

A commentary service declared the Germans are ready for preliminary aerial thrusts against the British expeditionary force on the Balkan front. Apparently Goering's air force will try to "soften" the British forces before German ground troops take on the task of tackling them at close quarters.

Turkey Sees War Threat

Partial Istanbul Evacuation

ISTANBUL (AP)—The Turkish government announced today that it "found it advisable" to withdraw a considerable portion of Istanbul's population.

The government offered to transport the people free into the interior.

The action was regarded as an indication of how seriously Turkey considers the threat of war to Istanbul, on the European side of the Bosphorus, less than 100 miles from the frontier of Bulgaria and about 150 miles from the eastern section of Greece, both occupied by Germany.

The city is feared particularly vulnerable to air attack.

Its normal population is about 750,000.

The government's announcement named for evacuation: Orphans, aged persons receiving civil or military pensions and who are not engaged in defence industry; persons without occupation.

"These persons, with their families," said the communique, "will be sent by government trains and boats to any part of the nation with the following exceptions: Thrace, Izmir, Ankara, Erzurum.

"One hundred pounds of baggage per person may be carried.

"Those people living in Istanbul who wish to join relatives in Anatolia, with the exceptions of Izmir, Ankara and Erzurum, will be allowed to do so on government trains and boats by application up to April 15."

Germans Far From Their Base

3 British Generals Missing in Libya

LONDON (CP)—The War Office announced today that one of three British generals whose whereabouts in Libya are unreported is Lieut.-Gen. Sir Nugent O'Connor, an outstanding tactician.

The two other general officers missing are Lieut.-Gen. P. Neame, V.C., and Maj.-Gen. M. D. Gambler-Parry.

In a radio broadcast February 9, Prime Minister Churchill singled out Gen. O'Connor and Lieut.-Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson as the two men responsible for carrying out Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell's offensive which drove the Italian forces of Marshal Graziani out of Egypt and eastern Libya.

Gen. O'Connor, who commanded the 13th Corps, was made a Knight Commander of the Bath for his part in the drive. Sir Henry was similarly decorated.

Gen. Neame was formerly general officer commanding the British forces in Palestine, and before the fall of France was deputy chief of Gen. Viscount Gort's staff with the British Expeditionary Force.

Gen. Gambler-Parry, 49, is a tank and tank-gunnery expert, and was head of a military mission which went to Greece soon after Italy's attack on that country.

The War Office communique today said German and Italian claims to the capture of 2,000 prisoners in the Axis thrust in Libya "would not be impossible under the conditions in which the encounters have been taking place."

"The Germans claimed six generals, two colonels and 2,000 men had been captured at El Mechili, 50 miles southwest of Derna."

The British forces have concentrated east of Benghazi in "an area more adapted to future operations," today's communique said, adding that in a period of several days "we have inflicted considerable casualties on the enemy."

Military circles in London said the Axis forces now operating in Libya are much farther from their bases than the British forces were at any time during the western offensive into Libya.

If the enemy is now east of Derna, as is claimed in Berlin and Rome, he is well over 750 miles from Tripoli.

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony (CP)—Four thousand Italians and 1,000 natives were taken prisoner with the British occupation of Addis Ababa, it was officially announced today.

U.S. to Establish Air Bases in Greenland

WASHINGTON (CP and AP)—Announcing United States extension of its hemisphere defence to Greenland, Presidential Secretary Stephen Early referred reporters today to Mr. Roosevelt's statement the United States intended to insure Greenland would remain a Danish colony after the German invasion of Denmark had ended.

Early said "that refers to Greenland or to any other possessions, including Canada. It will be defended if attacked."

Canadian warships and army planes will have full access to naval and air bases to be constructed by the United States in Greenland under the terms of an agreement with the Danish minister announced here today by State Secretary Cordell Hull.

The agreement was drafted in such a way that Canada will gain access to the bases, although a belligerent.

AIDS BRITAIN

Although official government circles declined comment, it was considered possible the agreement eventually might be used in connection with the ferrying of Canadian and United States-made fighting planes to Britain by providing an intermediate stop in the trans-Atlantic route.

The agreement was signed by Hendrik de Kauffman, Danish minister to the United States, and Mr. Hull. It gave the American government the right to extend its policy of hemisphere defence by constructing air and naval bases in the far north island. It will mean a string of American defence bases in the Atlantic running from the Arctic deep into the Caribbean Sea.

One of the reports now awaited by the Canadian section concerns snow conditions during winter and spring along a possible British Columbia route.

Italians Admit 43,245 Casualties

ROME (AP)—Italian casualties on all fronts during March, plus those not previously announced, were listed today as 43,245 dead, wounded and missing, bringing total losses since the first of the year to 84,734.

New losses on the various fronts were broken down as follows:

Greek front—3,102 killed, 6,031 wounded, 7,433 missing.

North Africa—58 killed, 128 wounded, 645 missing.

East Africa—159 killed, 383 wounded, 645 missing.

Naval—48 killed, 104 wounded, 641 missing.

In the air—33 killed, 44 wounded, 298 missing.

(An official British statement, April 8, put Italian casualties in Africa alone at 191,195 since the campaign began in December.

Italian losses in Albania up to February 3 were put at 92,000, while in the Mediterranean naval battle of Cape Matapan, two weeks ago, upwards of 3,000 Italians were drowned, in addition to several hundred rescued by British warships and made prisoners.)

Prisoners of Nazis Ask Smokes, Candies

British airmen who are prisoners of war in Germany "have rather a hard time to keep ourselves from becoming bored," Pilot Officer Jack Green, D.F.C., formerly of Port Alberni, writes to his sister Vera Green. He said cigarettes and chocolate bars were a "crying need."

P.O. Green was captured February 11 while on active service with the Royal Air Force.

British Give Loan To Spain for Food

LONDON (CP)—A British £2,500,000 ($11,125,000) loan to Spain was announced in the House of Commons today, before Parliament rose for its Easter recess today. The statement was made by Richard Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs.

The loan was described authoritatively as a humanitarian gesture without much political significance. This source said it was a plain fact Spain was starving "in the original sense of the word."

The informant said the money will be used mostly to buy food. A typhus outbreak is reported in Spain, mainly due to malnutrition, and the death rate is said to be considerable.

Informed sources said it was British policy that neutral countries should not merely be allowed to import adequate supplies for their own consumption, provided there was no risk of their falling into enemy hands, but should actually be granted assistance in obtaining them.

Through France

HENDAYE, France (via Berlin delayed)—A steady stream of goods is being exchanged between Germany and Spain through this small border city on the German-occupied French coast.

As reported yesterday by Fernand de Brinon, Vichy government representative in Paris, the substantial trade carried by rail between Spain and Germany was made possible by German occupation of a belt of the seacoast touching the Spanish border.

Last week from 60 to 70 carloads of Spanish oranges were shipped across the border to be consumed either by German soldiers in France or sent directly to Germany.

In addition to oranges, large quantities of iron ore, nuts, dried fish, hides, cork and mercury are being moved across the border. It was estimated the daily Spanish shipments to Germany total about 500 tons.

MEDICAL SUPPLIES

In return Germany has been sending dyes, paper pulp and medical supplies to Spain. Since the civil war Spain has been desperately short of medical materials and has indicated it welcomed German medicines to combat a reported increase in disease, notably of tuberculosis.

Jugoslav Pact Strengthens Soviet Position, Russians Say

MOSCOW (AP)—Red Star, organ of the Red army, said today the Russian-Jugoslav friendship pact signed just before the outbreak of the Balkan conflict is "all the more valuable under the new conditions because the Soviet Union always fulfils its international pledges."

The paper said the pact gave "new proof to the attractive force of the principles of the peaceful policy of the Soviet Union."

It also reflected further the strengthening position and international role of the U.S.S.R. and "increases its influence on the development of international relations," the army organ added.

Reaffirming the pact's promises to keep friendly relations in case one of the signatories should be attacked, Red Star said: "Such a situation arose for Yugoslavia

Requests Power To Take Ships

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress today for broad statutory authority to take over any "foreign-owned vessels lying idle in our ports."

This authority, he said in a message to the legislators, should be subject to the payment of just compensation.

Although the President had asserted Tuesday he would recommend legislation to permit the purchase or charter of 39 Danish vessels which recently were taken into "protective custody" by the coastguard, the language of his message today was not limited to the Danish ships.

The President cited a provision of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936 which authorizes him to requisition or purchase any American-owned vessels in time of national emergency or when the national defence makes it advisable. The section provides for a method of compensation.

NOT COMPARABLE

"There does not appear," Mr. Roosevelt asserted, "to be any comparable provision with respect to foreign-owned vessels lying idle in our ports."

Ships in American ports include two German and 28 Italian vessels which have been taken into custody on grounds of sabotage or attempted sabotage. Berlin and Rome have protested the seizures.

Informed persons predicted Congress would grant the requested authority and that soon thereafter the President would use the acquired ships in some form helpful to the British.

R.A.F. Bombs Prussian Library, 3 Palaces

Berlin Opera House Destroyed

BERLIN (AP)—The magnificent German state opera house, one of Hitler's favorite theatres, was destroyed and three places were damaged last night by British airmen in what the Nazi high command acknowledged to be the heaviest raid on Berlin since the war began.

The usual claim was made that no military damage resulted and DNB, the news and propaganda agency, said there were only six deaths in Berlin.

Emden, Bremen and several other vital war centres in northern Germany also were attacked, as well as Bellevue Castle in Berlin, guest house for foreign statesmen, the most recent of whom was Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka of Japan.

The State Opera House was burned out after a shower of incendiaries struck it. This morning a dense cloud of smoke hung over the centre of the city, attracting hundreds of the curious. Fire hose criss-crossed Unter den Linden and the area was roped off.

(The Opera House is not to be confused with the Kroll Opera House where the Reichstag occasionally meets.)

The former Crown Prince Palace, now a state gallery of modern art, also was hit.

Bombs Burn Attic Of Prussian Library

The incendiaries, apparently coming down in bundles, fell on numerous other buildings along the avenue, including the historic Prussian State Library, where the attic was burned out.

Similarly burned out was the top floor of the Emperor William Palace opposite the State Opera, and the right wing of the university across the street.

A number of office buildings toward the Brandenburg Gate suffered minor damage from incendiaries.

It was not learned immediately whether any of the state library's approximately 3,000,000 volumes had been lost or damaged in the fire, which was said to have been brought quickly under control.

The State Opera building offered a sad sight, however. The fire there apparently started at the rear end of the stage house, whence the flames blew through the roof and ate their way into the proscenium through the front.

Masses of spectators could see through the building from Unter den Linden to unscarred St. Hedwig's Cathedral immediately back of the opera.

Thirteen British bombers were claimed to have been shot down by night fighters and anti-aircraft guns on their approach and the Germans said they believed more were caught on their way back.

The radio informed Berlin residents that performances at the State Opera would be "temporarily" suspended.

Strike Norwegian, Danish Objectives

LONDON (CP)—The Royal Air Force dropped "powerful high explosive bombs" in the centre of Berlin last night and started large fires, the Air Ministry announced today.

Overnight attacks also were made on an aluminum plant in German-occupied Norway and a radio station in Denmark.

Eight planes were lost in these operations and in daylight assaults yesterday on Brest and other targets.

It was the first British raid on Berlin since March 23. An informed source said that while the attack was not comparable in size with Monday night's assault on Kiel, "it would have been felt."

Smaller forces of British night raiders struck at Emden and Vegesack, near Hannover.

Over the Top

CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP)—Chilliwack, which reached its quota of $3,500 at the end of the third day's drive in the war services fund campaign, expects to reach $5,000 before the campaign closes. Collections to date total $4,430.

FLIGHT TIMES OF EUROPEAN AIR RAIDS—Planes leaving the London region for attacks on Berlin such as the great one of last night require three hours to reach their objectives. Other routes are shown on the map above.

LONDON (CP)—Eleven German bombers were downed in attacks last night on the English Midlands and northeast.

The machines shot down in moonlight brought to 23 the number destroyed in the last three nights.

The centre of the Midlands attack was Birmingham, where the damage was described as "considerable."

(The Berlin radio said the northeast town was Newcastle.)

34 Killed, 90 Injured In Newcastle Raid

Despatches from a northeast England town, presumed to be Newcastle, said 34 persons were killed and 90 injured last night in the worst Nazi air raid the area had since the war began.

German planes, kept at great height by the heaviest ack-ack barrage ever flung up there, roared over in waves at intervals of a few moments.

Incendiary bombs caused one major fire and 200 others, all of which were brought under control swiftly.

Shelter Hit In Birmingham

From Birmingham it was reported that German planes which bombed that important Midlands industrial town caused what was officially described as "considerable damage."

A shelter in which a large number of persons was believed to have taken refuge was said to have taken a direct hit.

The number of casualties in these attacks is not yet known and may prove to be heavy," a communique said. Damage was described as considerable also in the northeast town (Newcastle).

Other raiders fanned out over the west of England, the east and southeast coasts and other scattered sections. London had an alarm, but there were no reports of bombs falling in the capital.

Rescuers Toil As Bombs Fall

Rescue workers in Birmingham toiled amid a hail of bombs dropped by waves of raiders which kept up the assault for several hours. One Nazi plane shot down fell on a house, causing casualties.

The Air Ministry reported the 500th Axis plane brought down by anti-aircraft fire was bagged by ground batteries on Tuesday night.

Perjury Conviction

NANAIMO (CP)—Alexander Magark of Courtenay, B.C., was convicted by an Assize Court jury here yesterday on a charge of perjury and sentenced by Chief Justice Aulay Morrison to nine months' imprisonment.

The charge arose from an inquiry into a fire in Margark's home November 23, 1940.

Circus Committees Complete Plans

At a meeting of the clown group of the annual "Y" circus, held last night at the Y.M.C.A., the following were chosen to do comedy turns at the forthcoming circus: Jim Taylor, Ralph Alcock, Hugh Reston, Bob Johnson and Bob Montgomery. Different skits and gags were discussed.

The properties committee and ticket committee also met last night. The latter committee completed sales arrangements and announced that the reserved seat section is now on sale, the plan being at the Y.M.C.A.

Another Papen Promise

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rome radio broadcast today a report "from well-informed sources" that Germany's ace diplomat, Franz von Papen, ambassador to Turkey, had reiterated to Turkish Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu "the assurance that Germany has no intention of attacking Turkey." The broadcast was picked up by the Columbia Broadcasting system.

Drang Nach Osten?

THREE SIGNIFICANT ITEMS OF NEWS today draw pointed attention to the fact that Russia, as well as Turkey, is taking a much less detached interest in Germany's extension of the war to the Balkans than formal diplomatic language so far has been allowed to convey to the world in general. The organ of the Soviet army, Red Star, describes the Russian-Jugoslavian friendship pact—signed just before the latest phase of the conflict took shape—as "all the more valuable under the new conditions, because the Soviet Union always fulfills its international pledges," and because it gives "new proof to the attractive force of the principles of the peaceful policy of the Soviet Union." From Istanbul comes the announcement that the Turkish government has "found it advisable" to withdraw a considerable portion of that city's population to areas more geographically remote from this potential battle area. The third dispatch from New York reports a Rome radio broadcast intimating that Nazi ambassador Franz von Papen has assured the Ankara government's Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu that "Germany has no intention whatever of attacking Turkey."

Considered solely on their innocuous phraseology and their precautionary implication, the observations of the Red Star and the action of the Turkish government are obviously very much less significant for what they say than for what it may be reasonable to read into them. Russia knows and Turkey knows that if Germany intended only to punish Yugoslavia for her irritating volte face, and to invade Greece merely to extricate Mussolini from Albania, the Nazi high command would have found some way of persuading Hitler against the opening of a new battlefront on such a costly and more or less meaningless pretence. There is patently a great deal more in last Sunday's move than this. Germany has launched her historic "Drang-nach-Osten" policy on the assumption that this is the psychological moment to apply it with some prospect of success—temporarily, at any rate. Briefly put, and Mr. Churchill alluded to the probabilities in his speech in the House of Commons yesterday, Germany must have more food and more oil if she is to maintain and expand the operations of her present war machine. Her bid for continental European domination depends largely on both. In his "Mein Kampf" Hitler announced his designs for acquiring the Russian Ukraine and its great wheat fields. The wells of Iran and Iraq have never been absent from his calculations. In the Soviet Union, then, lies the solution of part of his pressing problem, while Turkey's eastern and southern neighbors possess all the oil he requires for a further extension of his own schemes and the practical prosecution of Germany's policy with which the first Great War interfered.

One glance at the map of the Near East—and of Russia—emphasizes the duplicity of the familiar assurance which Ambassador Franz von Papen is reported to have given to the Turkish Foreign Minister. In the light of recent history, of course, any German pledge of friendly, or even neutral, conduct may now be regarded as something akin to the "kiss of death." This must be plain to Russia and Turkey alike. If M. Sukru Saracoglu is the wise statesman we take him to be, and he undoubtedly is, the removal of a portion of the population of Istanbul would seem to furnish the correct answer to the German envoy's pledge of no sinister designs on Turkish territorial or political integrity. The men of Ankara know that the presence of Nazi legions only a few miles from their own land is anything but a guarantee they are there for a pleasant picnic. What Moscow's army newspaper really means by its somewhat labored but nonetheless portentous reference to the Russian-Jugoslavian document will be better understood as events in the Balkans unfold. There stands out in prominent relief, however, the plain and simple fact that Hitler—if he is to get control of the Ukraine and the oil of Iran and Iraq—must fight Russia and Turkey or obtain what he wants by further application of the technique which served him well until Yugoslavia halted his procession of victories by the divide-and-rule method.

Is Anything Right?
OUR MORNING CONTEMPORARY tells us today that "manpower always directs the machine" and that "it is the quality and quantity of manpower that will win the war." In another editorial it says that "again and again the lesson has been repeated during the course of the war that immensely greater manpower than has yet been visualized . . . will be needed before the forces of Nazism are brought to submission." And in another part of its current issue it prints a letter from one of its more prolific correspondents who informs the world he is "convinced that the withdrawal at Benghazi and the present threat to Salonika and Constantinople are the direct result of lack of initiative on the part of Ottawa." The present government at Ottawa has made mistakes; it will make more. Some vital directional readjustments are overdue; some already are being made. But our contemporary's British bible, The Times of London, the other day published a highly-complimentary analysis of Canada's contribution which included the following:

"All the expansion has been worked out in close consultation with the British government, and has been timed to fit in with the program of the supply department. It provides for the co-ordinated effort based upon the full use of Canadian resources. In some respects the Canadian armed forces will have to rely for part of their equipment upon British production, supplemented as time goes on from the output of the United States factories, which are now getting into their stride. But provision has been made for a parallel expansion of Canadian war industries, which, in order to avoid overlapping, will concentrate mainly on the types of equipment which can not be obtained from the United States. Merchant vessels will be turned out at an increased rate and destroyers will be built in Canadian yards."

The great London daily generally understands what the British government has in mind. We remember its inspired editorial just before Munich that prepared the way for Mr. Chamberlain to carve at the "operation" on Czechoslovakia. But the morning paper would perhaps not relish further reference to its unwavering adulation of the late British Prime Minister—much less admit that if the government at Westminster, prior to last May 10, had heeded half the warnings Mr. Churchill had given it for at least three years, there might even have been no war at all. It is now in order, however, for another of the Colonist's correspondents to blame the administration at Ottawa for the grasshopper pest and the depredations of the boll weevil. By the way, was it not Mr. Churchill who asked for—and continues to do so—machines, machines, and more machines?

Brilliant British Columbian

THE SIGNAL HONOR CONFERRED ON Miss Elsie MacGill by the Engineering Institute of Canada in the presentation of the Cowski medal—the highest honor in its gift—not only brings a feeling of pride to her fellow British Columbians but also focusses attention again upon the changed role being played by women in the present conflict. Miss MacGill, brilliant daughter of Mrs. Helen Gregory MacGill, the well-known Juvenile Court judge of Vancouver, is the chief aeronautical engineer of Canada's largest airplane factory—which onerous position she is filling with such outstanding skill that several of her inventions have been adopted by Canada and the United States. During the last war women served valiantly as nursing sisters on the war front, and as munition makers and in various other roles on the home front, but today they are taking their place literally side by side with the men on the front line. If proof were needed, the Elsie MacGills of Canada and the countless unsung heroines of Britain's "blitz" have definitely etched the old fallacy about the "weaker sex" and have proved their claim to equality of treatment in any postwar rehabilitation scheme.

Notes

Experts say America has more than 8,000,000 barrels of oil in reserve. Well, she'll probably have enough troubled waters to need it.

International relations commentary in the Canadian Parliament from Norman Lockhart, member for Lincoln: "In Camp Borden there is one hut with 42 men, including three Canadians. . . . The rest are all Americans. They jealously refer to the three Canadians as foreigners."

With Old Man Winter assuming the role in these parts of another vanishing American, the Ladysmith Chronicle makes bold to predict for us a three-season instead of a four-season year. Meteorologists talk of weather cycles and are skeptical of climate changes except in terms of long periods of time. However, they admit that the polar ice cap is retreating yearly and the glaciers getting smaller. Of course, the whole idea of milder winters may be an illusion. But we cannot feel that way about it, with the reports coming in from everywhere between Victoria and Ladysmith of swallows back at their nesting sites and hummingbirds and bees busy over summer flowers already blooming.

Provincial Park Up-island

From Vancouver Province

Hon. Wells Gray announces that he has been pressing the Canadian Pacific to transfer the Forbidden Plateau to the government for inclusion in Strathcona Park. The plateau, being within the E. & N. Railway Belt, forms part of the Canadian Pacific's Vancouver Island empire. It would be an excellent thing if the railway could be persuaded to fall in with the minister's suggestion. The Forbidden Plateau is natural park land, and so has high value from a scenic and recreational point of view. The Canadian Pacific, which derives no small part of its revenue from catering to the needs of tourists and holiday-makers, should be among the first to recognize this.

There is timber on the Forbidden Plateau, but it is not going too far to say that for every cent the area is capable of yielding in saw timber it can yield a dollar in health and recreation and aesthetic satisfaction.

There is this to be said, however, about provincial parks: That, as soon as finances will permit, the government of British Columbia should work out a policy for making them more accessible. Only by making the parks accessible can the government make them safe. As they stand now, largely unknown, the parks are in danger of raids and exploitation. But once let the public into them and let the public realize their importance and no interest, however powerful, will dare despoil them.

HALIFAX, N.S.

LOST SHIP

FRANCOIS GAUDET stared long at the stranded schooner. "It's a damn shame," he said. "Could be fixed for maybe thirty thousand or twenty-five. Two trips and she's paid for." But the schooner Reine Marie Stewart was not going to be fixed. She was going to be broken up there, wrecked on the Nova Scotia beach, last but one of the great sailing fleets of these waters.

To Francois Gaudet it was not the loss of a job. He had plenty to do in his little shipbuilding shop. No, it was the thought of the last sailing ships going under—the kind of ships his father used to build, and his grandfather, and his great-grandfather, back to the days of the Acadians. Always they had built sailing ships on this north coast of Nova Scotia, since they returned from their exile. And now this beautiful ship, the Reine Marie Stewart (spelled wrong but built right to the last nail), was going to be wrecked because it wasn't worth repairing her.

She lay deep in the sand of the beach at Belliveau's Cove, with holes bored in her sides to let the water in and balance her there. Her four great masts could be seen for miles around and her mass of rigging made an intricate etched pattern against the blue, cold April sky. The waves came pounding in and slapped her motionless side, and day by day the sand was piling up around her. Nobody wants four-masters like the Reine Marie Stewart.

Francois Gaudet took up his chisel again with disgust and went to work on the little launch he was building. What chance is there for a skilled shipbuilder on a 50-foot gasoline craft? What satisfaction for a man who has built, and his father before him, the sleek schooners of Nova Scotia that used to make up the largest commercial fleet in the world?

END OF THE ARTIST

THE WRECK OF THE Reine Marie Stewart is more than the loss of a beautiful wooden ship. It represents the departure of an era, the great days of sailing and the great days of building by hand—the days of the craftsman, when every humble Acadian workman was an artist. It took them a long time to learn their craft. Before he was 10 years old Francois Gaudet could handle tools—his father saw to that. Since then he has done no other work. Ship after ship, which he helped to shape, has sailed the seven seas, and the work of his hands has been carried into every port of the world. Now he must build launches, powered with automobile engines, for the fishermen. The great days are gone.

Yet life here on the Acadian shore has changed less than in any part of America. The first houses built by the returning Acadian exiles stand yet on the point of Belliveau's Cove and the descendants of the first settlers still live in them. One morning long ago, about 1760, they cast anchor in the cove and went ashore, building their shanties in a trackless wilderness. They were far enough here from the English to be safe, and they kept to themselves, living on the cod, the haddock, the clams and lobsters. After a while they cleared little farms, which their descendants still occupy, tracing their ancestry back eight or ten generations by individual name. The Belliveau's who gave the cove its name are still there, running the chief store of the village.

HOW TO LIVE

THE ENGLISH DID NOT disturb them again and they have lived as they pleased, speaking their own language and English when they felt like it. They have lived and prospered on these bleak, windswept shores—a little fishing in the summer, a little farming, and always the woods in the winter to supply them with logs for their tiny mills.

Peasants they are, the Acadians, like their ancestors, but they know how to live with the land and the sea, not merely to live on them. They live well on an income which we would consider pauperism. They have neat houses by the shore, all painted white and shining. They have each a team of oxen to pull their wood and plough their ground, and when the oxen grow to be seven years old they are sold for beef at the original purchase price. Everyone has plenty to eat and wear and burn, on poor land which a western farmer would hardly bother to cultivate. They have learned how to live here because they had to, because their ancestors had nowhere else to go, and they are happier than we are.

But change is coming at last. Automobiles race down the paved highway past the toiling oxen. Everybody listens to the radio now and gets the war news. And Francois Gaudet looks up from the little launch he is building and sees the wreck of the Reine Marie Stewart that no one wants to repair, and he knows that the best days for him are over—the days of the artist, when his masterpieces used to sail down the bay, splendid ships, leaning against the urgent west.

Italian troops have been reported digging frantically along the Albanian front. By now it's probably safe to change that to digging out.

We wonder why some real estate man doesn't advertise, "Within easy running distance of the car line."

Parallel Thoughts

But if ye shall still do wickedly, ye shall be consumed, both ye and your king.—Samuel 12:25.

There is a method in man's wickedness, it grows, up by degrees.—Beaumont and Fletcher.

Elmore Philpott

WILL U.S. FIGHT?

IT IS NOW universally admitted that the United States is in this war to stop Hitler. The only question is to what extent.

The speech by Vice-president Wallace is a clear-cut warning to the whole world that the United States will declare total war against the aggressors in certain eventualities. What are those eventualities? That is a question which many other people than Hitler, Mussolini and Co., would like to be able to answer.

It seems to me that there are at least two or three eventualities which would lead to an out-and-out declaration of war by the Congress of the republic.

The first would be in the event that Germany or one of her allies committed a clear-cut act of direct aggression against the United States. Public opinion in the United States has a way of simmering for weeks or months and then crystallizing overnight as a result of some incident. In the Spanish-American war it was the sinking of the U.S.S. Maine. In the first World War it was the German declaration of total undeclared war that acted as the agent of crystallization.

With things as they now are in the world, another such incident—as a result of accident as well as deliberate design—might put the United States into total war overnight.

But, considering only moves in which the initiative originates with the United States herself, it seems also clear that in certain situations that country would act at once and with all force available.

I think the United States will do anything that she has to do to help keep open the North Atlantic life-line of democracy.

I think that in the event of a partially successful German invasion of the British Isles—that is, one in which the Nazis had made an actual landing, and in which the fate of the world rested on the subsequent battles—that the United States would rush every ship, every airplane, and every properly trained man if it appeared that such moves would turn the tide.

But more likely than any of these things is a decision by the United States to raise a blunt stop signal in Europe and Africa beyond which Hitler would go in the face of almost certain action by the United States.

FRANCE THE KEY

In specific terms, it seems to me that any further penetration of that part of Europe and Africa nearest to the United States would force the United States to take action for the protection of the Americas.

One reason why Hitler has not sent his armies into Fascist Spain may well be that he knows that the reaction to that move would probably be in America.

All of which gives tremendous importance to the future relations between Germany and the Vichy government. The latter permitted the transportation of large numbers of Nazi troops via Tunis to Libya, where they have revived, or replaced Mussolini's shattered legions. The latter has been compelled to admit to North Africa a small army of German "experts," who are taking over the country much as they are also taking over control of Italy.

Plans are underway to complete a railway from French Morocco to Dakar in West Africa.

While these plans are merely in the talk stage—and while railways cannot be built overnight even by huge prisoner-of-war gangs—the whole trend of events is one tending to force the United States towards positive counter-action.

HANDS OFF DAKAR

I think it absolutely certain that the United States would declare war rather than see Germany establish a strong naval, air and military base at Dakar. For Dakar is a spring-board from which the Nazis could penetrate South America with almost ridiculous ease.

For all these reasons, it seems to me that the whole basic U.S. policy could be summed up as follows:

It is extremely improbable that they will ever send an army to fight in Europe. It is just as probable that they will send all kinds of armed force to keep Hitler from breaking out of Europe—especially if he moves west.

A MATTER OF HOURS

From St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Gen. Okamoto of Japan, who predicted that "the anticipated landing of German forces on the British Isles . . . is now only a matter of hours," should have been more specific.

There are 24 hours in a day, 168 hours in a week, 720 hours in a month, 8,760 hours in a year, 34,040 hours in a Goering four-year plan, and 87,600 hours in a decade.

King's Plate Field Released

TORONTO (CP)—The 82nd running of the King's Plate at Woodbine Park here, May 17, loomed today on release of nominations as the usual wide-open event, with the early book favoring two black geldings and a chestnut filly for the King's 50 guineas and the Ontario Jockey Club's $5,500.

Thirty-eight thoroughbreds were nominated for the $8,000-added event, won last year by W. F. Morrissey's wide-running Willie The Kid. Although three—Undisturbed, Warrigan and Depositor—have been favored in winter books off their showings as two-year-olds, the triumph of the little-favored Willie The Kid in last year's classic is heavy indication of how little the form charts count when the field hits the home stretch.

Undisturbed, by Stand Pat out of Calm, is a black gelding owned by H. Giddings of Oakville. He has been favored in the winter books mainly because of his victory in the Clarendon Plate last year, but may be pressed in the odds closer to race time by another black gelding, Parkwood Stables, Warrigan, by Osiris 2nd out of War Vixen. Warrigan won Canada's richest two-year-old event, Mrs. Orpen's Cup and Saucer, over the King's Plate distance, a mile and one-eighth, last year.

Depositor, a chestnut filly owned by the Midway Stable of London, Ont., is ranked well off her triumph in the Coronation Stakes here last year.

ARTILLERY TEAM SOCCER CHAMPS

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (CP)—A field regiment of the Royal Canadian Artillery defeated a supply column team of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps 2 to 0 to win the soccer championship of Canadian Corps troops.

Bdr. A. Walker of Michel, B.C., scored both goals in the Gunners' victory.

After 10 minutes' play, Walker took a pass from Sgt. S. (Shorts) Roney of Brandon, Man., to beat Lt.-Col. H. L. Bath of Picton, Ont., in the food rations' nets. In the second half Walker got his other goal and the artillerymen stood off a siege by the supply column in the final minutes.

Sgt. H. Brown at one time with the Kimberley Dynamiters of hockey fame, played centre for the field regiment as well as managing the team.

The other R.C.A. players included: Gnr. W. Kerr, Edmonton; Gnr. R. Mitchell, Gnr. W. Smith, Bdr. F. Davis, all of Michel; Gnr. T. Parkinson and Bdr. R. Hawkshaw, both of Vancouver.

No Higher Pensions

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Pensions and National Health, said he could offer no hope of increased old age pensions. Replying to representatives of the British Columbia Friendly Aid Society who met him here, he said war demands on the government are very heavy.

WILMINGTON, Del.—Alex Kampouris, who figured to be a utility infielder for the Brooklyn Dodgers this season, now is expected to start the season at second base. Given a chance to show himself when Pete Coscarart was benched for weak hitting, Kampouris has been hitting and fielding in great style.

Big Increase in February Licenses

During February of this year 8,177 more licenses for commercial and passenger vehicles were issued by the motor vehicle license branch of the B.C. Provincial Police than during the same month of 1940. Total number issued last February was 73,494, while in 1940 the number was 65,317.

There were 7,500 more passenger car licenses granted in February of this year than the same month last year, 59,526 and 52,026, being the comparative totals. The increase in commercial vehicle licenses was slight, 13,968, compared with 13,291 in 1940.

There were 964 motorcycle licenses issued in February, the number in the same month last year being 745. Trailers are still popular, 969 issued for the month this year compared to 774 last year.

No Appeal

OTTAWA (CP)—Crown Attorney Raoul Mercier said the government would not enter an appeal from the decision of Magistrate G. Strike last Wednesday acquitting the Citizen Publishing Company of two charges under the Defence of Canada Regulations.

The charges were laid following publication of an editorial January 11 entitled "At the Business End of the Bren".

At the justice department it was said there was no official announcement to be made now regarding a decision in the matter.

About 10,000 bales of low-grade American cotton will be used in high-grade writing paper this year, government agriculturists expect.

GOOD FRIDAY

By E. ARMSTRONG

Good Friday or God's Friday as it was originally called, has been kept as a special fast day by the church from the earliest times, and is marked by the greatest solemnity. In early days it was known as Long Friday or Holy Friday, and then, as now, was a memorial of the Crucifixion of Christ. In many churches solemn three-hour services are held from 12 m. to 3 p.m. in memory of the three hours of the Passion, and the day is reverently kept as a day of prayer.

CELEBRATIONS IN OTHER COUNTRIES

In many Latin countries great processions are staged on Good Friday and holy mystery plays are performed. In the little principality of Monaco a torchlight procession with a re-enactment of the Passion in masque is held.

EARLY CELEBRATION IN ENGLAND

In early days the English churches marked Good Friday by a solemn ceremony in which the figure of Christ on a crucifix was borne around the altar with doleful chants, then offerings of bread, corn, etc., were brought by the people, and the figure was buried.

THE CEREMONY OF "CRAMP RINGS"

After the burial the King blessed a number of rings in the church where he worshipped, and these were distributed among the sick as an infallible remedy for "cramp," and these "cramp rings" were much cherished by those lucky enough to receive them.

GOOD FRIDAY BREAD

Another old superstition connected with Good Friday was the baking of bread on that day. The bread was kept for the ensuing year with the belief that, mixed with water, it would prove a sure specific for any ailment.

HOT-CROSS BUNS

Though most of the old ceremonies and superstitions of Good Friday are forgotten, that of eating hot cross buns has survived. We read of an old pagan custom of worshipping the Queen of Heaven with cakes—a custom still observed under various guises in China and Mexico.

ORIGIN OF HOT CROSS BUNS

The eating of hot cross buns on Good Friday is probably of heathen origin. Cecrops, the founder of Attica, offered to the Olympic gods small round cakes called buns. These cakes were not marked with crosses but they bore a similar design, and it is possible that the early Christians kept up some of their heathen customs, adapting them to Christianity; thus the heathen design on the buns was probably replaced by the present cross.

ENGLISH STREET CRIES

Among the famous street cries of London, such as "Sweet Lavender," "Hot Crumpets," etc., none is better known than that of the bun sellers on Good Friday morning:

"Hot cross buns!"

"One a penny, two a penny, Hot cross buns!"

These small spiced buns, marked with white crosses, were sold, as now, in all English pastry cooks, but the two shops specially celebrated for their hot cross buns were the "Chelsea Bun House" and the "Real Old Original Chelsea Bun House," both of which were entitled to carry the prefix Royal, as it was the custom, many years ago, for the King to purchase his hot cross buns at these shops.

25 Years Ago

APRIL 10, 1916

A quiet wedding took place today in Christ Church Cathedral when Ethel Rose Coles, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Coles was united in marriage to David Cobb of the 88th Fusiliers Band, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cobb. The ceremony was performed by Very Rev. Dean Schofield. Mr. and Mrs. Cobb are spending their honeymoon in Vancouver.

Hon. Paulus Aemilius Irving, 59, justice of the Court of Appeal, died this morning at his home, 622 Cook Street. He was the third son of Sir Aemilius Irving. He had made his home here since 1883 and married Miss Diana Hamley, daughter of the Hon. Wymond Hamley of Victoria. Besides his widow he leaves two sons, Lieut. E. Bruce Irving of the 2nd C.M.R. and Beaufin Irving of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, both in France, and two daughters, Miss Paula and Miss Olga.

The marriage took place April 5 at Christ Church, Vancouver, of Anna Dagmar, youngest daughter of Olive Johnson, and Edgar Lowell Evans, only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Evans, Victoria. J. V. Johnson gave his sister in marriage and Miss Lillian Johnson was bridesmaid. H. P. Blake was best man.

W.M.S. Told Leaders Needed for Young People's Work

"Young People's Evening" was the feature of last night's session of the annual meeting of the B.C. Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church, the various phases of the work being presented in reports and addresses, which emphasized the need for leaders.

MISSIONARIES BACK

Mrs. W. A. McLennan of Toronto, in an address to the young people, gave an interesting account of missionaries who have returned to Canada from foreign fields. She expressed the thanks of the board to the Victoria and Vancouver members of the W.M.S. for many kindnesses to missionaries leaving or returning to this country. All returned missionaries, she said, had been retained on the staff in Canada and were being paid according to posts found them in schools, hospitals or in other home mission work. Without an exception, all workers had expressed a desire to return overseas when circumstances permit.

Miss Frances White, secretary for girls' organizations of the province, reported the membership now numbered 427 girls, and while deploring the decrease in membership, she spoke with gratitude of the increase in givings. Miss Sybil White, secretary of the Young Women's Branch, reported 19 groups with a membership of 221. In her report as mission bands secretary, Mrs. Angus MacKenzie urged the need for more leaders to take up this valuable phase of church work.

The Misses Thelma and Thyra Gaetz sang two duets which were much enjoyed. The Gorge Girls' Choir, under the direction of Mr. Park, with Mrs. Holmes at the piano, sang two numbers very beautifully. Mona Peasland, Myrtle Corkle and Alice Foster were the soloists.

INCREASED GIVINGS

The final statement presented by the treasurer, Mrs. K. A. McLeod, at the afternoon session, showed a total of $5,963.60, this amount being an increase over 1939. A decrease in membership was noted.

Miss Lara K. Pelton of Toronto, in a stimulating address on the task facing the Christian church, emphasized that "we cannot build for peace by talking about it," and impressed upon her listeners the need for constructive thinking at the present time.

New developments in Chinese work in the province were reported by Miss Grace Lee, Victoria, and Miss Yeung told of the work in Vancouver.

PRESIDENT'S TALK

At yesterday morning's session, the resident, Mrs. W. H. MacInnes, gave a brief talk on some of the big unfinished tasks facing the church. She alluded to the younger churches in Europe which would be needing help and encouragement for years to come, and also touched upon the great opportunity for mission work in many large territories not yet opened to missions, such as the hinterland of New Guinea, parts of Tibet, and many areas in India, while the restrictions on Christians in Turkey constituted a challenge, said Mrs. MacInnes.

Reports from the various departments were presented, showing much labor and satisfactory results, those reporting included: Mrs. H. J. Barry, library secretary; Mrs. Peter McArthur, literature secretary; Mrs. F. R. Moore, glad tidings; Mrs. M. Turner, costumes; Mrs. James Harley, lantern; and Mrs. R. M. Thomson, supply.

Miss Laura Pelton made a brief appeal to the auxiliaries to put the W.M.S. literature in the homes of churchwomen, so that they might know what the Presbyterian church is doing in many fields. The opening devotional was conducted by Mrs. Smith, president of the Kamloops-Okanagan Presbytery. The service of remembrance, conducted by the president, honored those members who had been called to higher service during the year.

Weddings

McNAUGHTON—YOUNG

Of interest to the bridegroom's many friends will be the following item from the Trail Times of March 31:

"The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Young, 719 Binns Street, pioneer residents of Trail, was colorfully decorated with spring flowers for the Sunday morning wedding of their elder daughter, Laura Agnes, to Mr. William McNaughton of Trail, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. M. McNaughton of Victoria, formerly of Trail. The Rev. J. L. Clerihue of East Trail United Church performed the marriage at 9.

"The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an attractive afternoon frock of blue and white printed silk with yoke gathered at the neckline. This feature was repeated at the waist line. Her turban was of matching material and sweetheart roses formed her corsage.

Miss Patricia Young, sister of the bride, was the only attendant. Her afternoon frock was of rose and white figured silk featuring high neckline, three-quarter sleeves and gathered pockets. A matching turban and corsage of white carnations complemented her costume. Mr. Fred Pearson, cousin of the groom, was best man.

"Following the ceremony, a reception was held. The lace covered bride's table was centred with a tiered wedding cake and flanked with vases of spring blooms.

"Receiving with the young couple were the bride's mother, Mrs. Young and Mrs. McNaughton, who is here from Victoria for her son's wedding.

"Mr. and Mrs. McNaughton left later for the coast for their wedding trip. For traveling the bride changed to a dressmaker suit of poude blue crepe worn with a navy wool top coat, off the face navy straw hat and accessories en tone.

"On their return the young couple will take up residence in East Trail."

GRIFFIN—TODD

At St. John's Church last evening at 8.30, Canon F. A. P. Chadwick united in marriage Virginia, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Todd, Mount Douglas, and Norman Arthur Griffin, R.C.A.F., younger son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Griffin, 2745 Fifth Street, Victoria.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. Anton Henderson, and wore a peacock blue dressmaker suit, with a darker blue straw hat trimmed with maroon shaded flowers, and a corsage bouquet of sweetheart roses and heather. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. John Norrington, in a French grey pin-striped dressmaker suit with blue accessories, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. Mr. Gay Stevens was best man.

At a reception held at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Henderson, Carey Road, the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Todd in a navy blue dress with touches of pink, and hat en suite, and by Mrs. Griffin, also in navy blue. Both wore corsage bouquets of pink carnations.

The supper table, centred with the wedding cake, was arranged with vases of forget-me-nots, bridal wreath and white rock, with lighted blue tapers.

The bride donned a maroon top coat before leaving for McLeod, Alta., where the young couple will make their home.

A silver tea under the auspices of St. Michael's W.A. will be held on April 15 from 3.00 to 5.00 in the parish hall.

Romanticists Made
Big Contribution,
Says Lecturer

By A.S.D.W.

The Victoria Musical Art Society introduced an interesting variant to their usual monthly concerts last evening at the Empress Hotel, when they presented Frank Drake Davidson in a musical lecture, assisted by Dorothy Parsons, soprano, and Maquinn Daniels, pianist.

Mr. Davidson's subject was

"Robert Schumann, Musician and

Essayist; Robert Browning, Poet

and Musician," and he handled his theme with a sensitive understanding and gentle humor, particularly appropriate to the two great romanticists, who were contemporaries of the Victorian age.

SIMILAR CAREERS

Dr. Davidson traced the similarity in their careers, pointing out that both were born into comfortable middle-class families; both had ideally happy married lives

after overcoming the opposition of stern fathers, and each, aside from his particular avocation,

had a vocation; in the case of

Robert Schumann, writing; in the case of Robert Browning, music.

Schumann, at one time founded a paper especially for the encouragement of new young musicians and as a critic the lecturer compared him with George Bernard

Shaw, who has acted in the same capacity, and whose caustic criticisms are the complete antithesis of Schumann, the musician's kindly, constructive words.

Browning was the greater rebel, but both men cast aside old form and conventions in their desire for new modes of expression, and wrote in an idiom strange to the public, so that neither was popular during his lifetime. Schumann, however, to a great extent through the efforts of his wife, Clara Wieck, gradually became appreciated some years after his death. Browning,

the passionate reformer, flinging familiar lyric and imagery into the dust-bin, actually made poetry in England unpopular.

Mr. Davidson declared. After

Browning, poetry became something academic and unintelligible to the majority, but unlike Schumann's music, a great deal of Browning's poetry has remained intelligible to this day.

WIVES' INFLUENCE

In closing, Mr. Davidson referred once more to Schumann's wife, Clara Wieck, and Browning's Elizabeth Barrett, remarking on the faith and understanding of these two women and the influence they had on their husband's life and works.

The lecture was happily illustrated by two groups of songs sung by Dorothy Parsons, with Maquinn Daniels at the piano.

Proceeding the lecture came a group of Schumann songs which included "Messages," "The Lotus

Flower," "O Shining Sun," "The

Nut-tree" and "Dedication." Miss

Parsons' rich soprano is well suited to these Lieder songs, and she was equally pleasing in the closing group to words by Browning, "There's Heaven Above,"

"All Love, But a Day" and "The Year's at the Spring," the last repeated at the demand for an encore.

Esquimalt W.I. Aids

Bombed Britons

Esquimalt W.I. met Tuesday evening in St. Paul's Parish Hall,

Mrs. A. Mossop presiding. Members stood in silent tribute to Mrs.

H. Temple, a member, who had

'Worse Than Useless'

MRS. J. BORDEN HARRIMAN, former U.S. Minister to Norway, in New York made a plea for "protection" of American supply ships sent to Great Britain and her Allies. She said attempts to send unprotected vessels across the ocean were "worse than useless."

"There can be no half-way measures today," she said. "The important and basic point is that these ships must be protected in the most efficient manner. What that manner will be must be decided by experts. All we must do is inform our representatives that we approve of protection and leave the means of protection to them."

Mrs. Harriman said the United States had more to fear from appeasers "than Hitler's legions," and faced its greatest danger "in the unbelievable apathy which exists in some parts" of the country.

Small Arms Centre For Pacific Coast

The Canadian small arms training centre of western Canada will be moved from Lethbridge to the Pacific coast in the near future, it was announced yesterday in Calgary by Brig. F. M. Harvey, officer commanding, Military District 13.

It is expected the centre will be established at some point on Vancouver Island.

"It has been decided that conditions on the coast are more suitable for the year-round operation of such a school," Brig. Harvey said.

The centre has been based in Lethbridge under command of Lieut.-Col. Macgregor F. Macintosh, M.P.P. for the Islands, for several months.

Immediately after the ceremony Monday, Ken took an airplane and flew across the country.

"It's a wonderful life, it's just marvelous," he said enthusiastically. "The air force boys are a swell bunch of fellows."

Ken east from Victoria some months ago will graduate from a flying school in Prince Edward Island in about two weeks.

Matches Endangered Soldiers' Mail

The other day a member of the Canadian Postal Corps engaged in sorting the parcel mails found smoke pouring from a mail sack addressed to a Canadian unit overseas. He reached into the bag and drew out a parcel which immediately burst into flame and had to be promptly quenched with a fire extinguisher. The parcel was found to contain a number of books of "safety" matches in addition to candy, socks, etc.

AGAINST SUNDAY THEATRES

Mrs. Fry has written a letter calling for three cheers for Mrs. Simpson because Mrs. Simpson is in favor of Sunday theatre shows in Victoria. But I and others like-minded could not cheer for Mrs. Simpson and the Sunday night theatre shows now open in Victoria.

The Sabbath was made for man but not for man for Sabbath theatrical shows.

If I had sons in the army, it is the gospel-halls I would like to see them go on Sunday, instead of to the Sunday shows in Victoria to laugh at tools of the devil.

In hell there will be no shows, no card tables, no rum-drinking, no cigarettes.

GOD DOES NOT TAKE SIDES

Last September a letter undertook to show that the efficacy of prayer, public as well as private, cannot be established as a fact. Instances were given such as Buckle's famous case, cholera, which for years resisted national prayers but yielded at once to sanitation.

Recently a Sunday of prayer was again proclaimed in England and Canada. No doubt if fortune smiles, the petitioners will claim the coincidence as an answer to prayer. (As this is written we hear that a reverend gentleman has done just that at Ottawa). The many failures are, of course, ignored. Our sovereign is a good, kind man, and acted with a good conscience; for he is one of those who believes in prayer. At other times the initiative has been taken by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the President of the United States and the Pope.

For one thing, there is general failure to see that prayer is open to both sides, as at Bannockburn. In the American Civil War Lincoln had before him the spectacle of the persons on the opposing sides all praying to God, alike for slavery and against it. He commented that God does not take sides; his ways are beyond human understanding.

W. D. MUNRO.

DIVINE RESPONSE

The evacuation of Dunkerque of which the New York Times said at the time that "so long as the British tongue survives the word Dunkerque will be spoken with reverence," happened about 48 hours after a national day of prayer, observed on May 26, 1940. And now we have the coup d'état in Yugoslavia, as dramatic as unexpected, to add to the list of God's wonderful interventions.

Someone has said that the British people all over the earth, behind all the ships and planes and guns and tanks, put their trust in God and keep their powder dry.

What a contrast! The enemy deliberately and avowedly defying God and boasting of his defiance; while Britain's sovereign publicly and repeatedly acknowledges his trust in that same God whom the enemy despises. Can God do other than assert himself?

'OPEN SUNDAYS' PROTESTED

We have addressed the following letter to British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, London:

"According to the British Broadcasting Corporation and the daily press of February 20, 1941, the Hon. Herbert Morrison announced the intention of the government to open theatres and music halls on the Lord's Day. The Gospel Fellowship Club, composed of many of the Christian business men of Vancouver, without distinction as to denomination, has asked me to express its regret that such a move toward 'open Sundays' is contemplated.

"We in Vancouver recognize the contrast between our quiet, peaceful atmosphere and that in which the peoples of Britain are living. Drastic conditions call for drastic action. But we feel sure, sir, that no condition is bigger than God, and that obedience to His commands is more conducive to speedier victory than plans which go contrary to those commands.

"Canadian fathers and mothers have thanked God daily for the hallowed quiet of Canadian Sundays. They are justifiably fearful of the effect that the 'open Sunday' may have on their sons. When God's word is set aside by government legislation we may well tremble at the result.

"In consideration of past history of the British nation and peoples—of the unmistakable evidences of God's blessing when people obey Him—may we respectfully suggest that a turning to God now, in these awful days, may achieve better, quicker, more effective results than the opening of these places of amusement on Sundays, they are bound to result in a greater forgetfulness of God. There is a financial gain to the owners of these places in this Sunday license that may prove a stumbling block in turning back to Sunday closing after the war.

"This club voices its loyalty to the Empire, and believes that the way to lasting victory is through obedience to God and His Son, Jesus Christ."

WHY ORANGEMEN OPPOSE BIBLE IN SCHOOLS

There appears from time to time letters in your columns agitating for the inclusion of Bible reading in the curriculum of the public schools of B.C. We often wonder if those advocating this change realize what the final result would mean to our children who at present meet daily in a spirit of equality and democracy.

The opposition of the Loyal Orange Association to Bible reading in public schools is not due to any failure to recognize the importance of the subject, but rather because we believe that the best results are not to be obtained that way, and for the further reason that it would be found impossible to impart religious instruction to the scholars in a way that would be satisfactory to the parents or ministers of all the different Protestant denominations and most certainly an impossibility as far as the Roman Catholic Church is concerned. There is the further objection to the expenditure of public monies for the teaching of religion.

We believe also that no citizen should be taxed to propagate or should his children be taught any religion, creed or theory in which he does not believe.

We believe that more important than any course of religious instruction is the character of the teacher. If our public school teachers are what they ought to be (and most of them are), there is no crying need for any specified course of religious education. If they are not what they ought to be, no course of Bible reading will have the desired effect upon children under their charge.

The Canadian Board Journal covered this point when it said: "Religious education anywhere involves the necessity of providing two things, namely, the text book and the teacher. Those who advocate the teaching of the Bible in the public schools are not sufficiently concerned about the qualifications of the other factor—the teacher. A well-qualified and experienced religious teacher can direct the development of the religious instincts of the pupils without the use of any prescribed material, better than a poorly-qualified teacher can with the use of the Bible and other religious literature."

In a recent examination set by the Religious Educational Council of Canada the published results were a startling challenge to the homes and churches of Canada and reveal the necessity of providing more highly-trained teachers in religion before there is any hope of including the teaching of the Bible in schools as most of those who failed were from homes of church people and those who attended Sunday school.

It therefore appears to us as if the simplest way to remedy these conditions would be to preach a more intense gospel from the pulpit, teach the word of God more freely in the Sunday school, and reconstruct the family altars in the home. This could be done without any new laws or government assistance.

We believe Section 160 of "The Manual of School Law in British Columbia" which says:

"All public schools shall be free and shall be conducted on strictly secular and non-sectarian principles. The highest morality should be inculcated but no religious dogma shall be taught. The Lord's Prayer may be used in opening and closing school."

This is so good that no change is necessary.

DAVID B. BRANKIN,
Chairman Legislative Committee of the Grand Lodge of B.C.
R.R. 4, New Westminster, B.C.

SAANICH WELLS

The taxpayers of Saanich have now been informed that they will be asked to vote on the proposed water supply from shallow wells for their municipality. I have in previous letters to the press drawn to the notice of the public that such a supply is liable to serious contamination which would have disastrous results. On July 25, 1940, I received a letter from the Department of Municipal Affairs stating that the water from the wells had been tested and found satisfactory with the exception of one well. I am informed that the cause of the test from one well not being satisfactory, is that it was tainted by tar which had been used on the surface to make road material. The fact that one well can so easily be contaminated by tar, proves that my statement that the wells are liable to contamination is correct, and if contamination is so readily caused by tar, it is quite certain that disastrous contamination by dangerous bacteria would take place.

A report by a firm of civil engineers on the construction of reservoirs and the distribution system has been published. I have not yet seen published a report from an experienced civil engineer to the effect that the proposed source of supply is and will be in the future free from any pollution. Without such an assurance from an experienced engineer who is a British subject it is foolish to consider the construction of reservoirs and a new distribution system.

The public are informed that Councillor E. C. Warren is going to address the taxpayers on the proposed scheme. If Mr. Warren is a technical expert with special training in water supply matters this will be quite satisfactory, but if he is not the taxpayers should demand a report from a civil engineer with the necessary qualifications.

I have before pointed out that a domestic water supply scheme is so important that the government of the province should protect the public by having such a scheme investigated by their experts. In many countries such a course is insisted upon by the government. I have previously pointed out that an investigation might be undertaken by the Utilities Commission. This commission had a vote of $125,000 last year and this year $120,000 and the people of Saanich are justified in asking that some of this large sum be used for an examination of their proposed water scheme.

There is no doubt that the source of supply for the Saanich wells is Elk Lake. In 1912 the City of Victoria was drawing 2,000,000 gallons of water a day from Elk Lake and the water level of the lake was lowered about 10 feet. The result of lowering the water level was that the shore line of the lake was a mass of mud. The same condition will again occur if Saanich draws all its water supply from Elk Lake and the result will be that the lake will no longer be a pleasure resort or tourist attraction.

The Act requires that the poll for the by-law be advertised for only 10 days previous to the poll. The taxpayers should study the situation at once and not wait for the advertising of the poll.

As regards the financial side of the question, do the taxpayers feel justified in spending $350,000 during a time of war when the cost of materials is up 30 to 40 per cent? Another expense which Saanich will have to face in the very near future is the efficient sewerage scheme.

'Defiants' Answer Nazi Night Raiders

One of Britain's answers to German night raiders is the Paul Defiant, a long-range two-seater fighter. Powered by Rolls-Royce Merlin engines, the Defiants have an impressive speed. Their armament includes a specially-designed power-operated multi-gun turret, a close-up of which is shown, lower left. A feature of the plane is the oleo-pneumatic undercarriage, lower right, which retracts sideways into the wing centre section.

AT B.C. HOUSE—Lieut.-General H. B. Wemyss (right), Adjutant-General to the Canadian forces, visits the canteen at British Columbia House in London. Among the troops were soldiers from the Canadian, British, Dutch and Free French forces—whom the general addressed in their own language.

DANISH SEAMEN ARE COASTGUARD 'GUESTS'—Baggage piled up on Ellis Island, New York, reminded old-timers of the days of unrestricted immigration from Europe. The mounds of seabags, suitcases and trunks belonged to skeleton crews of 15 Danish ships seized by the U.S. Taken into "protective custody," the sailors are pictured, above, as, with Coastguardsmen watching, they sort out their effects.

CARVER'S HOBBY—For "recreation," N. E. Galloway, retired woodcarving instructor, has turned his hand to construct a 70-foot totem pole of concrete and stone reinforced with steel in the backyard at Poyil, Okla. The grotesque figures, to say nothing of the six rooms inside, should keep archaeologists 2,000 years from now, guessing on the habits of the "prehistoric Indians" who built it.

Blast of Seeds Wrecks Building, Kills One

Miniature blitz in Toronto is the best description of what happened morning. One man was killed. His body was not recovered for six hours, after which firemen continued to search for that of his brother, who at the time was in a nearby church.

GLAMOROUS AIR RAID WARDEN—A showgirl at the Windmill Theatre, London, England, is Judy McCrea. So long as the theatre is open she continues to do her stage work. But she also serves as an air raid warden in Paddington and retains her glamour, even in uniform, even in a steel helmet. The photo proves that England's women like to have lipstick and powder to fix up between air raid alarms.

LADY HARDWICKE MEETS ANOTHER MEMBER OF HER FIGHTING FAMILY—Flying Instructor Walter Pickard, right, of the R.A.F. air school at Kingston, Ont., got 48 hours' leave to join his sister, Lady Hardwicke, and her husband, the famous English actor, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, left, in Toronto over the week-end. Another brother, Squadron Leader Charles Pickard, is in active service with the R.A.F. overseas, and has won the D.F.C. and D.S.O. since the outbreak of war. Lady Hardwicke's sister, Marjory, a famous actress, is driving an ambulance in England. The Hardwicks are working on British war relief in Hollywood and did a broadcast over CBC on Sunday night.

PANZERS—As the Luftwaffe's planes opened the invasion of Yugoslavia by smashing at its airports and other defences from the air, the Panzer divisions' deadly tanks (above) roared across the flat plains of the north.

TRANS-ATLANTIC BOMBER PILOT—Complete with "Mae West" —inflatable life-saving jacket— and fur-lined trousers, stands James Mollison, former trail blazer of the air across the globe, but now turned ferry pilot for United States bombers to Britain. The picture was taken when Mollison arrived in Montreal.

By PETE SALLAWAY

VICTORIA sports fans are bemoaning the loss of their favorite baseball broadcast from radio station KJR. It appears that Leo Lassen will broadcast the Seattle ball games from a smaller station and one which does not come in well on many local sets. It is surprising the number of people here who listen to the games. We have heard a lot of protest against the program switch and the local fans are at a loss to understand the change. They are of the opinion the baseball broadcast was one of the most popular programs put on the air by KJR. This season the fans will have to suffer static and other interferences if they want to follow the progress of the Rainiers.

Chatted to Stan Patrick on the street the other day. The youngest son of the Patrick clan was spending the day in his former home town. Stan is still looking after the auditorium in Vancouver. Informed us the wrestlers are still not drawing their expected crowds, although Jim London doubled the house when he appeared.

Patrick struck a sour note when asked about his boxing promotions. Appears he dropped quite a chunk of cash on one card and then got the run-around from Arnold Bertram, manager of Kenny Lindsay, with the result he has had no chance to recoup his losses. Since talking with Patrick we notice where Sid Beech and Coley Hall are acting as co-promoters of the forthcoming so-called world championship bout in Vancouver between Lindsay and Tony Olivera.

"This Lindsay-Olivera title bout is a laugh," declared Patrick. "Jackie Zurich came up to Vancouver and whipped Lindsay with ease. After the third round Zurich was complete master of the Vancouver boy and could have made the defeat look much worse if he had desired. And Olivera took Zurich with no trouble. So how does Lindsay rate a match with Olivera?"

Stan informed us his brother, Lester, vice-president of Madison Square Garden, has been in ill health all winter. "Lester was able to sit on the bench with the Rangers in only one game all season and that may have had a lot to do with the poor showing of the club during the National Hockey League schedule," he said. Frank Patrick enjoyed a good season in his new position with the Montreal Canadiens, Stan stated.

Coast Hockey League affairs are not in the bad state of affairs as pictured by Vancouver sports scribes, Stan told us. Much of the recent trouble with the Spokane team resulted through the Spokane players and league officials not being informed as to whether or not ice would be available at the Washington town. "The fines plastered on the Spokane players and my brother, Guy, received a lot of publicity but matters were not in such a sorry state as certain sports writers would have you believe," Stan declared.

Sports fans looking for holiday entertainment tomorrow afternoon can choose between the junior Canadian football final between Oak Bay Blue Devils and Victoria High School Alumni at Macdonald Park and the Coast League soccer at Athletic Park between Victoria and Vancouver St. Saviours. We will guarantee both attractions to produce good action.

Boxing Booms

NEW YORK (AP) — The live, best looking dead thing around at this writing is the business of boxing.

They've been saying for years that boxing is dead. Well, with the $52,000-odd gate for the Joe Louis-Tony Musto fust in St. Louis Tuesday night, the fight game neared the 1,500,000 mark for the nation's major attractions in this indoor season.

The total for promoter Mike Jacobs' productions alone this season is over the $1,000,000 mark. This includes his stopover in Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis, as well as in his own back yard, Madison Square Garden.

Just what it is that has caused Gus Fann to unbutton the "old sock," as they call it around and about, no one is quite sure.

Mike figures one contributing factor is that more "natural" matches have popped up among the divisions below the heavyweights. But in war-torn times like these, not even that is enough to bring in the neighborhood of $150,000 of the "fresh" out into the open.

PLANS FOR LOUIS — ST. LOUIS (AP) — There was quite a scrambling yesterday of plans that promoter Mike Jacobs and Joe Louis had lined up for the busiest summer a heavyweight boxing champion has ever faced.

Out of Tony Musto's gallant nine-round stand against Louis here Tuesday night, and the way Buddy Baer made roly-poly Tony Galento holler "uncle" in Washington, came a complete switch in the line-up. Here is how Jacobs and Louis' managers tentatively have agreed to go on with Joe's fight-a-month campaign:

1. Buddy Baer in Washington in May.
2. Abraham Simon, originally the May opponent, in a rematch of a 13-round go with the Bomber in Detroit, in June in New York.
3. Billy Conn, the light-heavyweight king, in July, probably in New York.
4. Old Man Pat in August, because Joe wants a month off to play golf, especially in a tournament he's arranging for his dude ranch in Michigan.
5. Lou Nova, conqueror of Max Baer, and given a good chance by many to dethrone Louis in September.

PERTH AMBOY, N.J.—Ernie Vagh, 157, Newburgh, N.H., stopped Larry Kellum, 155, New York (3).

Set for Grid Final

Oak Bay Blue Devils will field a powerful team tomorrow for their clash with V.H.S. Alumni in the final for the 1941 junior Canadian football championship at Macdonald Park starting at 2:30. Two all-star players who will be wearing the colors of the Blue Devils are shown above. On the left is hard-driving quarterback, Bob Wallace, and on the right, tackling star of the team, left end, Keith Monaghan. The defending champion Alumni team is in fine shape for the battle. A wide-open fast-moving game is expected.

Locals Sweep Finals

Browne-Cave Wins

A veteran table tennis artist, Wilmot Browne-Cave, and company, actively new player, Miss Ruth Payne, brought further sport honors to Victoria last night by winning the singles championships in the western Canada tournament staged here.

In addition to winning the featured singles titles, Victoria players won the mixed-doubles, men's doubles, veterans' singles and team honors.

The highlight of the three-day championship tournament, though, was Miss Payne's fine performance, which was climaxed last night when she defeated Miss Barbara Mackay, Victoria, who held the women's singles title for the last three years.

Miss Payne gained the final by beating Miss Peggy Colquhoun, Vancouver city champion, and she made no mistake in the final, downing Miss Mackay in straight games. Scores were 21-15, 22-20 and 21-4.

After firing everything she had at the challenger in the second game, but still losing out, Miss Mackay went to pieces in the third game. Miss Payne took it in a walk.

TOO STRONG — Browne-Cave proved too much for Vic Tully, also of Victoria, in the men's singles final, winning the championship in straight games, scores of which were: 21-15, 21-17 and 21-11. Tully appeared tired and played-out.

In the semifinals, also played last night, Tully beat Jim Bennie, Vancouver, 21-13, 21-12, 18-21, 20-22 and 21-14. Browne-Cave downed Bill Cotton, Victoria, 21-19, 14-21, 21-16 and 21-19.

Tully hit the winning column in two of the doubles championships though. The men's doubles went to Tully and Cotton and the mixed doubles to Tully and Miss Mackay.

The mixed doubles went to five games. It was Miss June Boyce and Will Boyce, Edmonton pair, who gave the locals trouble. The scores were 18 to 21, 21 to 13, 22 to 20, 18 to 21 and 21 to 18.

Tully and Cotton took the men's doubles championships in three games from Bud Small; and Jim Bennie, Vancouver. Scores were 21 to 17, 21 to 12 and 21 to 17.

The women's doubles title was captured by Miss Peggy Colquhoun, Vancouver, and Miss June Boyce, Edmonton, from the local sister team of Misses Ruth and Winnie Payne. Scores were 21 to 17, 21 to 17 and 21 to 13.

The veteran's singles title was won by Henry Jarvis, Victoria, in straight games, from the defending champion, Bob Crombie, Victoria, the night before.

TEAM MATCH — The team match was won by Victoria with 32 points, 10 more than the tied second-place Edmonton and Calgary team. Vancouver had 20 points.

Two Intercity Soccer Games

Coast league soccer in Victoria will be closed out for another season tomorrow afternoon at Athletic Park when Victoria United engages Vancouver St. Saviours. Match will start at 2:30 with Dave McMillan as referee.

Tomorrow's game means a lot to the Saints. By gaining a victory the mainlanders can go into a first-place tie with Vancouver St. Andrews in the league standings. However, the Saints have one more match scheduled and are favored to lift the honor won last year by North Shore.

The United will have its first-ranking club on hand, and Manager Doc Poyntz says he is quite confident about the outcome.

Another intercity match will be offered Saturday afternoon when Esquimalt engages Nanaimo at the Athletic Park in the island final of the Province Cup. Service. Match will start at 2:30. Dave McMillan will be the referee.

'Y' Swim Results

Further "Y" swim results for the Safeway and Bailey trophies are as follows: Midgits, J. Chaloner first, H. Frackson second, S. Bates third and Y. Rose fourth; second heat, P. Salmon first, T. Tully second and D. Smyth third, Junior, I. Salmon first, J. Morgan second, M. Passmore third and N. Nash fourth; second heat, E. Holmes first, B. Fitzsimmons second, and M. Nielsen third.

Amateur Ice Finals

Regina Takes Lead

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (CP) — Criticism of officiating and charges of poor ice conditions hummed through the hotel corridors here today as the west's two best senior hockey teams, Regina Rangers and Lethbridge Maple Leafs, prepared to leave for Calgary and renewal of their bitter western final best-of-five series.

The storm of complaints came up shortly after Rangers, aiming for their first Patton Cup victory since 1922, eked out a 4 to 2 victory to take a 2 to 1 lead in the series. Fourth game will be Saturday, and the fifth, if necessary, Monday in Calgary.

Manager Herman Thole of Leafs admitted coach Freddie Metcalfe "outsmarted us." Rangers, he said, were in position to know the ice in the arena would not hold up but became soft.

Further, he said, the ice was "full of holes, handicapping Maple Leafs."

Thole expressed disapproval of Marshal Darling's match penalty in the third period. He claimed referee Dick Davis of Winnipeg should not have given the player a minor for handling the puck with a stick that he said was cracked and not broken.

Metcalfe didn't think his team deserved six of the nine penalties in the hectic second frame, and wanted to know "why the official (Davis) only gave Darling a minor sentence for striking him."

Boston Seeks Third Ice Victory Tonight

Raymond Jacks Protest Fails

VANCOUVER (CP) — Charlie McLachlan, vice-president of the Canadian Basketball Association, said here yesterday that the protest of Raymond Union Jacks against Winnipeg St. Andrews' victory in the western Canada senior men's semifinal in Raymond Tuesday night had been disallowed.

The protest was filed by J. G. Snow, manager of Raymond, who stated that a basket scored by his team should have been allowed. The disputed final goal would have made the final score 34 to 33, necessitating a fourth game in the series.

McLachlan said that the protest was "thrown out" only after careful study of reports from all parties concerned and decided that referees were quite within their rights in the action taken. St. Andrews will oppose University of British Columbia Thunderbirds in the best-of-five final for the western Canada championship scheduled to start here Saturday night.

Official Opening Of Lawn Bowling

Official opening of the lawn bowling season in Victoria will take place on the greens of the Lake Hill Club, April 26 at 2:30. First match will be a competition between teams representing the president and vice-president of the Greater Victoria Lawn Bowling Association.

Reeve Leslie Passmore of Saanich will officiate at the opening ceremony.

Red Wings Make Team Switches

DETROIT (AP) — The onrushing Boston Bruins, National Hockey League champions, prepared once again to turn loose their speed against the Detroit Red Wings tonight seeking an overwhelming lead in the final Stanley Cup playoffs.

Already leading by two games to none in a best-of-seven series, the Bruins were aware of the fact they would face a desperate squad of Red Wings on Detroit's home ice.

Except for Bill Cowley, league high point scorer, the Boston lineup will be intact. Other Bruins are nursing cuts and sore leg muscles, none of which appear serious enough to keep them out of service.

Red Wing manager Jack Adams, who called his players for a council of war today, said his biggest worry was goalie Johnny Mowers, who has an injured thigh muscle. Mowers insisted he would be ready for the opening whistle.

To bolster the defence, Adams said he would shift veteran Alex Motter from centre to defenceman Harold Jackson's post. Jackson, a rookie called from Indianapolis to replace injured Captain Eddie Goodfellow, will be benched.

Bruneteau will fill in for Eddie Wares, whose injured shoulder has failed to round into shape.

DETROIT GETS HILLER

DETROIT (CP) — Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League disclosed yesterday they had obtained Wilbur (Dutch) Hiller, speedy left winger, from New York Rangers for the $5,000 waiver price.

Hiller, formerly a high-scoring member of the Rangers' Phil Watson-Bryan Hextall line, had a poor season this year, partly because of an early-season foot injury.

He is believed to have quarreled with Lester Patrick immediately after Rangers were eliminated by Detroit in the first round of the Stanley Cup playoffs.

He will join his new club next season.

Provincial Junior Badminton Play Set

British Columbia's junior badminton stars will gather at the Vancouver Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club April 16, 17, 18 and 19 for the 21st annual provincial championships.

The open events will be for boys and girls singles under 18; boys and girls doubles under 16; boys and girls doubles under 18; and mixed doubles under 18 and 16.

The boys under 18 singles title was won last year by Ken Meredith of Vancouver, with Miss J. Cavanagh, Victoria, lifting the girls' crown. The girls under 18 doubles championship was won last year by Misses L. Thompson and J. Cavanagh of Victoria.

The Central Fraser Valley open cups will also be at stake in the B.C. tournament.

Entries will close on April 14.

BOXING

TAMPA, Fla.—Henry Cooper, 192, New Haven, outpointed Marty Clark, 189, Macdill Field (10).

15 Hits Give Rainiers Win

A 15-hit assault by the Seattle Rainiers provided Dick Barrett, the Coast League's No. 1 pitcher of 1940, with his first triumph of the season yesterday as the champions defeated the Los Angeles Angels 7 to 4.

Wildness forced Barrett to retire after seven innings but he gained credit for the victory. Duke Windsor, righthander formerly of the Western International League, finished the mound assignment.

The Rainiers' assault was led by Jo Jo White and Dick Gyselman, each getting a circuit clout. The victory ended the series at one apiece.

Oakland's Acorns got six runs in two innings to defeat the San Francisco Seals 6 to 4 for their second straight victory.

The Hollywood Stars got 15 safe blows off four San Diego twirlers to register an 8 to 2 win over the Padres. It was the Stars' first victory of the campaign.

The Portland-Sacramento game was rained out.

Investigators to Call on Saturday

The special committee appointed by the Dominion government to investigate British Columbia's potential war industrial capacity with the object of co-ordinating that capacity will meet in the Liberal members room in the Parliament Buildings on Saturday morning at 9:30. Plans of the committee's itinerary were long-distanced to Alderman Archie Wills, chairman of the Victoria committee, this morning by R. S. O'Meara of the provincial bureau of industrial and trade expansion. The committee is meeting in Vancouver today and will go to Nanaimo tomorrow, coming to Victoria for one day only on Saturday.

Word was dispatched at once by John Baxter, secretary of the Victoria committee, to all members of the local committee who are asked to attend on Saturday in view of the importance of the visiting delegation. It includes: James Crone, chief technical adviser to the Department of Munitions and Supply on loan from the British government; Rear Admiral E. J. O'Brien, representing the technical division of the British Admiralty; and Frank M. Ross, director of naval production for the Department of Munitions and Supply. R. W. Mayhew, M.P., for Victoria, and Lawrence Killam and Gordon Farrell, prominent Vancouver businessmen, are the British Columbia representatives on the committee.

BEAT DEADLINE BY FULL MONTH

Final passage of the city's annual tax rate and expenditure by-laws is expected at the regular City Council meeting Tuesday afternoon at 3:30.

If the routine work is completed by that meeting, the tax by-law will have been made operative a full month ahead of the May 15 deadline set under the Municipal Act for that procedure. It will permit officials in the collector's office to send out notices early and should generally facilitate collections of the current levy.

The meeting Tuesday will also be the last tended by Mayor Andrew McGavin before he leaves for Ottawa next Thursday for the annual convention of Canadian Mayors and Municipalities in the Chateau Laurier from April 22 to 24 inclusive.

Topics for discussion at the Ottawa conference include war time housing, civilian defence, and municipalities and the war effort.

ASSELSTINE WILL SEE OIL PROJECT

Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Minister of Mines, will fly north to Comox Creek in the Peace River next Wednesday to make an inspection at the scene of the government's oil drilling project.

Mr. Asselstine said he was going to "look the situation over." Drilling operations at Comox Creek have been suspended for the last four months while the contractors were "fishing" for a bit and about 900 feet of rods which became stuck at the bottom of the 5,000-foot hole.

Difficulties have been encountered in recovering the bit. According to geological estimates the hole had about 1,000 feet to go to reach the "Peace River shales" when the drill stuck.

The Sketch Club will hold its first outdoor meeting of the season on Wednesday afternoon next, when the members will be the guests of Mrs. A. J. Woodward and Miss Woodward at "Clovelly," Clovelly Terrace. The rockeries and flowering shrubs are at their best just now and will make charming studies for the artists' brushes.

TOWN TOPICS

Total bank clearings in Victoria for the week ended April 10 amounted to $1,845,356. The total for the corresponding period last year was $1,803,995.

Stewart Henson, Ashland, Oregon, has written city police asking information of relatives of his mother, Mrs. Nina Henson, whose maiden name was Nina Tway.

The Provincial Museum will be closed on Good Friday, April 11, but will be open as usual from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Saturday, April 12, and Monday, April 14.

A repeat engagement will be made by Garfield White, noted female impersonator of Vancouver, at the cheer-up concert to be presented in the York Theatre next Sunday evening.

E. G. Rowbottom, Deputy Minister of Trade and Industry, left last night for Edmonton to attend the cheer-up concert to be presented in the York Theatre next Sunday evening.

Alderman P. E. George, president of the B.C. School Trustees' Association, will address the mid-island branch of the B.C. School Trustees' Association tonight at Nanaimo. On Monday he will proceed to Vancouver to convey the greetings of the provincial trustees' body to the B.C. Teachers' Federation.

All Post office wickets will be open from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m., Good Friday. No letter carrier or rural deliveries will be made. The lobby will be open 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Evening street letter box collections only will be made. All mail will be dispatched as usual. On Monday all wickets will be open from 8 a.m. to 12 noon. There will be morning letter carrier deliveries and rural mail deliveries. The lobby will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Street letter box collections will be as usual.

A. C. Lindsay New Rotary President

A. C. "Ab" Lindsay was chosen president of the Rotary Club to succeed G. A. Yardley, when the report of the nominations committee of the club was accepted at a luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel today.

An election will be held for four directors who will be chosen from the following: A. H. Davies, J. E. Doe, A. Dowell, M. H. Green, D. J. Miller, B. T. Murphy, Cyril H. Orme, R. H. Shanks, J. G. Simpson and S. Stephen.

Speaker at the meeting was Roy D. Kerby, assistant to Col. R. S. McLaughlin, president of General Motors of Canada, who said the automotive industry stood ready to give the government all-out services of plants, equipment, men and money if the need arose.

He said that the industry had responded magnificently to war orders.

TREMENDOUS OUTPUT
"In our own plant in November," Mr. Kerby said, "we built and shipped a greater number of mechanized units for overseas than we had ever shipped in a whole year previously."

More than 100,000 units had been shipped out of Canada since March of last year.

To illustrate the tremendous change in the equipping of active service forces, Mr. Kerby said that in 1916 a division required 4,000 horsepower as compared with 172,470 horsepower today.

More than 2,700 vehicles were necessary for every division.

The speaker said that a certain fuse plant received an order in December, 1939, for 400,000 units. A fuse had to be made with the precision of the finest watch and as a result a large staff of men had to be trained.

The order, Mr. Kerby said, was promised for June 1, 1941, but on January 9 of this year, six months ahead of schedule, the order was completed.

If the automotive industry in Canada had never justified its position before, it had done so in the last 18 months with its contributions to the war effort, Mr. Kerby said.

Yosuke in Leningrad

LENINGRAD (AP) — Yosuke Matsuoka, Japanese foreign minister, made a sightseeing visit today to this city, where he started his diplomatic career 30 years ago.

He arrived this morning on the Red Arrow Express from Moscow and toured places he had not seen since the Bolshevik revolution. Returning to Moscow tonight, he will leave for Tokyo Sunday.

TORONTO (CP) — National campaign headquarters had announced contributions to the Canadian War Services fund totaled $5,195,574 up to this afternoon. The goal is $5,500,000.

Jobless Girls On Warpath

VANCOUVER (CP)—Married women with husbands working "who shoulder single girls out of a job," were scorched Tuesday by a super-heated blast of condemnation from aldermen in civic finance committee.

The board's indignation finally blew itself out in a gust of encouragement to the Vancouver Girls' Service Group to keep plugging its campaign among commercial organizations and service clubs for preferential treatment for spinsters in the labor market.

Necessity of "getting after" wives of army and navy officers was particularly stressed by Mrs. Agnes B. Lumsden, group president.

"They are getting between $200 and $300 a month," she protested. "There is no necessity for them to work, yet they are the kind who want these girls to do housework for $10 or $12 a month."

OFFICERS' WIVES

Aldermen vied with each other in sympathizing with the jobless navy-born daughters of Vancouver citizens.

Reports from the mayor of Honolulu (site of the U.S. naval base at Pearl Harbor) that the officers' wives problem there is handled by public refusal to patronize firms employing them was mentioned by Alderman John Bennett, chairman.

"We don't want to boycott these firms," Mrs. Lumsden interjected. "We think we can do it more peaceably than that."

OPEN TO ALL TAXPAYERS

The committee gave its unofficial blessing to the Group's Employment Bureau, but explained that civic service jobs must be open to all taxpayers.

A limit of one year's residence in Vancouver is all that is required.

However, the girls competent to take work in the City Hall were told to register with the city clerk.

Although the committee doubted its charter powers to make a cash grant to the group, several aldermen made personal donations after the meeting.

Wives often masquerade under their maiden names, asserted Ald. G. W. Worthington, without their employers knowing they are bringing in a second pay cheque for the family.

The organization said it comprises more than 150 girls capable of all manner of work.

"Our girls don't want work as domestics—they want something better—but they wouldn't mind pinch-hitting at that for a while," Mrs. Lumsden remarked.

WAGE GROUP STARTS WORK

Members of the city's special wage committee, sitting under the chairmanship of Alderman Ed Williams, yesterday afternoon, gave consideration to salaries of lower-bracket employees, surveying the circumstances, length of service and duties of those receiving up to $125 in the City Hall and certain other departments.

The committee went over several cases carefully and prepared recommendations governing certain individuals.

The survey yesterday covered virtually all the inside staff receiving less than $125, the Welfare Department, the Old Men's Home and certain outside employees on monthly salary.

Yesterday's deliberations did not extend to the main outside staff, the city library, nor the school employees under the specified sum. The board has already gone on record seeking action from the council for school employees on the same basis as that accorded city employees.

Weatherman Gives Promising Report

It should be safe to wear new Easter bonnets... the weatherman says it's going to stay nice! "We're in luck," he said today when asked how the weather was going to behave for the holidays.

"The forecast is for light winds, partly cloudy, but don't worry too much about the clouds, and mild," he said.

It is hoped that the clouds mentioned will not be carrying any rain to dampen the holiday spirits, because there are a number of outdoor functions planned for tomorrow and Easter Sunday.

Tomorrow most of Victoria will be taking in holiday sport events, and Sunday will see the annual parade of new spring outfits. Good weather is also asked for the sunrise service at the summit of Mount Tolmie Sunday.

Gets 6-Month Term

A six-month hard labor sentence was imposed on James McBryer by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in City Police Court today. He pleaded guilty to two charges of obtaining money by false pretenses and was found guilty on a third similar charge.

E. H. Harris, Edward W. Andrews and George Robinson all identified accused as the man who represented himself as from the customs and got sums of money from them on the under-papers of unclaimed or damaged-in-transit goods. They later found they had been duped. Messrs. Harris and Andrews gave him $5.20 each, Mr. Robinson $4.60.

Sell Idea to Pay

Importance of cultivating a desire to pay in the minds of customers, was stressed by V. A. Jack, Vancouver, in an address to the Credit Granters' Association.

Subject of Mr. Jack's address was "Credit and Collection Psychology."

It was not difficult to sell goods, the speaker said. The difficult part was selling the idea to pay for the goods.

It was announced that the offices of the Retail Merchants' Credit Association had been moved from the Hibben-Bone Building to the Jones Building, Fort Street.

EXPECT TO REACH OBJECTIVE TODAY

HOW TO BE A BOY AGAIN!

At 83 I'm a youngster in spirit, heart and ambition. I'm young because I obey the laws of Nature; others do not. It is hard to realize that I owe my youthfulness to foods and exercise, but I do. Yet I would not dare exercise as vigorously as I do at my age on conventional foods.

I gave up most of the foods you eat some 30 years ago. My diet is based on a free use of my three natural whole grain cereals... Dr. Jackson Meal (formerly Roman Meal) Bekus-Puddy and Lishus; and a similar free use of milk, cheese, fresh vegetables and fruits together with generous quantities of my delicious alkaline beverage Kofy Sub.

These foods enable me to take exercises that keep my muscles supple, elastic, flexible and resilient as any boy's. They keep me free from constipation and its debilitating evils. Thus I remain young and grow younger every day.

You don't believe me? Well, try my foods and exercise reasonably and you cannot doubt. If you are interested in this subject, send for my free booklet "A Glorious Achievement". Address, Robt. G. Jackson, M.D., 577 Vine Ave., Toronto.

High School Open House

Parents See What Their Children Have Achieved

Hundreds of parents and friends of the students of Victoria High School attended the most successful open house ever held at the school yesterday afternoon. The visitors were free to go about as they pleased, and they saw the students at work and at play, and the products of their handiwork, and were surprised and delighted with the exhibits and displays.

At 2.30 the guests filled the auditorium and were welcomed by Principal Harry L. Smith. They were shown the three types of assemblies in which the students participate. The various numbers of the program were announced by Mr. Smith.

The recently-formed mixed choir of 60 voices, under Miss Norma Douglas of the school staff, sang "Glorious Devon," "All Through the Night" and "The Wizard of Oz." Mixed singing at high school is an innovation. It proved stimulating to the audience, which enjoyed the enthusiasm of the young singers, particularly the boys.

The school orchestra, which has been working hard under the conductorship of A. Prescott, played a Hungarian dance and a medley of popular melodies, and the girls' choir, directed by Stanley Bulley, presented two numbers. These girls showed the effects of much careful coaching, and their numbers were, tonally, well executed.

A long, intricate dance by the pupils of Miss Doull revealed a thorough knowledge of their work, and the performance was graceful.

MOVIES AT SCHOOL

"Choosing Your Vocation" was the title of a film which Harry Doe used to illustrate his talk on the place of moving pictures in the curriculum. Films were chosen for educational and amusement purposes, and combining the two the staff found that the pupils derived more benefit from the pictures. Every Thursday and Friday mornings pictures were shown in the assembly, and the one chosen for yesterday's assembly was the 53rd the pupils had enjoyed since last September.

R. Hammond concluded this part of the program by conducting his regular morning musical appreciation class. This year the program included the study of the use of the various musical instruments and, with the aid of visiting musicians, who demonstrated their own particular instrument, and a film on symphonic music showing the best use for each type, the pupils had been given a good understanding of music and its interpretation. Recordings of the best classical music were played for the pupils as well as favorite selections.

DON HOLMS WINNER

The annual Beta Delta impromptu public speaking contest among boys for the Rose Cup was held. Don Holms, runner-up in the recent open oratorical contest, was victorious with his two-minute speech on "How the War Has Proved the Unity of the British Empire." Seventeen boys competed. The judges were Miss E. G. Cameron, W. Kennedy and Capt. A. M. Boyd.

The Cadet Corps, of which the school is justly proud, and were given rousing cheers as they marched past and executed the various drills. Alan Roper, lieutenant-colonel of the corps, took the salute, and as the 530 young cadets saluted the flag when marching smartly by, they proved that they would be a credit to the forces of Canada if called upon to serve their country. An exhibition of gymnastics by members of W. A. Roper's gym team followed the cadet parade.

As the finale to the afternoon's activities the Portia Society entertained the visitors at a silver tea, the feature of which was the contest for the best-decorated table. Twelve tables were entered. The winning table, decorated by Lorena Miller, Beverly McAree and June Thompson, was a delicate sight in pink and mauve, spring flowers being used to carry out their theme. The second prize went to Gloria Kendall, Aileen Keith and Phyllis Wakefield, who decorated their table in red, white and blue, making a striking picture with patriotism and victory as the theme. Judges for this contest were Miss Baxter and Max Maynard. A total of $57 was raised and will be divided between Portia and the Junior Red Cross Society which collaborated in staging the tea.

KNITTING DISPLAY

Throughout the afternoon a display of work by the Junior Red Cross Society was on view. Only a small percentage of the work of the sewing clubs was exhibited, but the articles filled the large home economics room. Knitted articles, babies' clothes, sweaters, helmets, scarfs, mitts, afghans, well made by both boys and girls, were closely inspected. Sewing projects, illustrating the correct way of using a machine and how to finish garments, indicated the thoroughness of the training the girls received in their sewing classes. Sewn articles included pyjamas, nightgowns, baby clothes, all in flannelette; patchwork quilts, handkerchiefs and tiny dresses.

The display of the manual training showed tools, well finished and precision made; hammered copper work, with artistic motifs designed for many uses; instruments and intricate machine parts by the machinist and fitters' classes, sheet metal work, forging in wrought iron, artistic hinges, doorknobs, fire irons and knockers, end tables, large library table, upholstered bench, desks, lamp stand and beautiful checker table inlaid with various woods. A display of the work of the Home Nursing and First Aid Classes was held.

On the east grounds girls' athletic games were in progress.

Could Handle Fleet

VICE-ADMIRAL SIR GEORGE FREY LAYTON, commander of the China station of the Royal Navy, said Singapore could accommodate "any part of the American fleet, tomorrow, if the occasion demanded," but said if trouble arose he would get "powerful naval reinforcements and get them quickly, regardless of whether the United States comes in with us."

He estimated, however, it would take two months for a full battle fleet to reach Singapore.

Admiral Layton said several commerce raiders had been "eliminated" in the Indian and Pacific Oceans, but indicated the German pocket battleship Admiral Scheer was operating somewhere in those seas.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hospital examination disclosed yesterday that Tony Galento damaged his left hand in his bout Tuesday night with Buddy Baer and the Jersey barkeep's purse of $5,912.50, which had been held up, was released to him.

Dr. Francis Allman said the examination showed no evidence of a fracture but that the bones had been injured enough to cause great pain. Baer was awarded a seventh-round technical knockout.

Tories Demand Ship Program

Aggressive action for a shipbuilding program in Canada, particularly on the Pacific coast, was demanded by Oak Bay Conservative Association in a resolution passed at the monthly meeting in Cadboro Bay Hall Tuesday night.

Moved by Herbert Anson, M.P.P., seconded by G. V. Cross, the motion said: "We view with alarm and dismay the definite lack of aggressive action so urgently needed by the Dominion government regarding mercantile shipbuilding in Canada and particularly on the Pacific coast. British Columbia has miles of waterfront property suitable for shipyards open all the year round which should have been used months ago for construction of the necessary yards and from which today ships should be moving into the water for service to England."

NO LACK OF LABOR

"The only bright spot in the matter is the recent appointment of H. R. MacMillan as supervisor and comptroller in chief of shipbuilding in Canada. If free from political contamination, he will no doubt do much in a short time to remedy the evil but it is quite clear that the Hon. C. D. Howe should resign or the problem of shipbuilding be placed in the hands of a separate minister.

"British government reports of the last few days record sinkings of over 400,000 tons in the month of March. The gravity of this must be apparent to all thinking people."

"We are not impressed with the statements from Ottawa that there is a lack of skilled or semi-skilled labor in British Columbia. This association calls on the Dominion government to give a lead and some definite action instead of continuing promises of something to come which never arrives."

BOYS' BRIGADE

First Victoria company of the Boys' Brigade, connected with St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, completed its first year of existence last month.

Officers have been receiving up-to-date instruction in the Boys' Brigade system of training from Major F. V. Longstaff, who recently inspected and reported on the companies of the Vancouver and district battalion.

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII will deliver his Easter message Sunday at 1 p.m. (3 a.m., P.S.T.), and his words, in Italian, will be broadcast on short wavelengths of 31.06 and 19.83 metres, it was announced today.

HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, APRIL 11

Adverse planetary influences are strong today with Mars in a place threatening to the whole world.

Women will benefit by pursuing their usual tasks today, although preparation for future public service should not be neglected. In spring shopping the wise will buy carefully and generously. Extremes in fashion should be avoided, even by young girls, because next spring will come with many changes affecting even the styles of clothing. In other words, buying should be made with a thought for the future when economies may be necessary.

Heavy losses are presaged in the World War from this date. There appears to be a sign presaging intensive conflict which will introduce new weapons and unrevealed horrors in the Nazi attempt to invade England. Elre will come much into the war news, but neutrality may be maintained through this year.

The conjunction of Jupiter and Mars next month is affected by the square of Mars. The workers may present difficult problems. Severe economic conditions are indicated. Death will remove leading men in the summer.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of good luck. Unexpected opportunities will bring added income. Changes are forecast, also summer travel.

Children born on this day probably will enjoy eventful careers. For certain ones long sea voyages and unusual adventures are indicated.

SATURDAY, APRIL 12

Adverse aspects are strong today. It is one of the rare dates when evil portents strongly dominate from morning until evening. There is a sinister sign for labor. Unrest and apprehension may be prevalent under this configuration.

Girls will find this a dull weekend, so far as admirers and suitors are concerned. It is a day in which small deceits may be noticeable in association with young men. The stars warn both men and women against the general use of alcoholic beverages and resulting deterioration of good citizenship and true patriotism. The stars presage drastic legislation to control the liquor traffic through a period of national peril.

As the birthday of Hitler draws near, astrologers foretell reverses for the Nazis, for Saturn will square the Fuehrer's natal planet in the tenth house, an evil portent. Difficult and treacherous foreign relations are indicated. Stalin will be a source of uncertainty while Mussolini will have passed the place where he can be considered of value to the Axis plans. Instead of becoming an asset he will have proved a serious and hampering liability.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of prosperity in which come pleasant surprises. Changes, and travel are forecast.

Children born on this day probably will have eventful lives. Hazardous experiences will bring great rewards to boys while girls will enjoy varied friendships.

The National Resources Planning Board has reported a case study of 144 communities that were constructed by a predetermined plan.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Pepples Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong, yet you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, doped, tired and pepples.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you living power.

Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today.

CANADIAN NICKEL

QUICKENS THE DRIVE TO VICTORY!

THOUSANDS of tons of Nickel ore each day are now being treated in the Copper Cliff smelter. Crushed, roasted, smelted, it is speeded from one important process to another.

The British Empire will be adequately supplied with Canadian Nickel through the efforts of International Nickel's 20,000 employees. They are putting their shoulders to the wheel in the mines, smelters and refineries in Canada and in the Company's refineries, foundries and rolling mills in Great Britain and the United States. For Nickel, used to toughen the steel and harden the gears in your automobile, is used in every aeroplane engine as well as in trucks and other mechanized equipment.

It is just as universally used in the machinery, tools and equipment being produced to speed the Empire's war effort.

In peace, Canadian Nickel provides employment, brings wealth and prosperity to Canada. Now in time of war it is of vital help in speeding Empire victory.

'MELODY RANCH' ON PLAZA BILL

"Melody Ranch," which opened today at the Plaza Theatre, demonstrates Republic Studio's showmanship in connection with the exploitation of their million-dollar cowboy star, Gene Autry. Republic had the foresight to anticipate the return of the westerns to popular favor five years ago, and the courage to launch a revolutionary new series of musical westerns. Now, with Autry at the top of the western list, box office speaking, Republic makes another move in starring Autry in a heavy-budgeted feature production, and "Melody Ranch" speaks warmly of the success of this venture.

'BAD LANDS' NOW SHOWING AT RIO

A phase of frontier life on which the screen has seldom touched is vividly presented in "Bad Lands," which opens at the Rio Theatre today.

The film is a grim and absorbing study of what happens to a hastily-organized posse in the Arizona of 60 years ago when it is trapped by a band of Apaches. The Indians are allies of the half-breed murderer the posse is pursuing, and, lying unseen among the rocks on all sides, they hold the little party helpless.

MUSICAL FARCE ON YORK SCREEN

"No Funny Business," a musical farce of the divorce racket, should prove a diverting motion picture, at the York Theatre. It is a new angle on the bedroom farce, arising from the complications that ensue when two professional co-respondents, through mistaken identity, endeavor to compromise each other.

Gertrude Lawrence heads the cast. And, incidentally, she sings two songs, "What's a Little Kiss Among Friends" and "No Funny Business."

'Nice Girl' To Be Shown at Capitol

By far the finest cast ever assembled for a Deanna Durbin picture will be seen in support of the star when Universal's "Nice Girl" opens tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre.

The film is Deanna's ninth, following her record-breaking eight straight hits, and for each of the Deanna Durbin pictures Producer Joe Pasternak gathered an outstanding cast.

Franchot Tone appears with Miss Durbin for the first time, in the role of a representative of a New York scientific foundation.

The academy award-winning character actor, Walter Brennan, also makes his initial appearance with Deanna. Helen Broderick, as housekeeper for Deanna's family, and "romantic interest" for Brennan, also appears with the star for the first time.

SPANISH LESSON IN 'HIRED WIFE'

It could happen only in Hollywood. Rosalind Russell and Brian Aherne were about to start a scene for Universal's "Hired Wife," which opens at the Cadet Theatre today.

Just then, associate producer Glenn Tryon noticed the Spanish phrase "mia mujer" in the script. It didn't sound right to him so he called the Spanish department to check on it.

"We're not quite sure," was the reply, "but if you call Glenn Tryon he can tell you."

Romance, action, adventure and all the excitement that was the frontier west have been deftly blended in "Western Union." Others featured in the cast include John Carradine, Slim Summerville, Chill Wills and Barton MacLane.

'Maisie Was a Lady' Holiday Feature

The most impressive cast to date for a "Maisie" picture is to be found in "Maisie Was a Lady," which opens Friday at the Atlas Theatre, with Ann Sothern in the title role, and Lew Ayres, Maureen O'Sullivan and C. Aubrey Smith heading the list of supporting players. Miss Sothern brings her customary zest and sparkle to the role of the wise-cracking stranded showgirl, who this time loses her job as the "Headless Woman" in a carnival sideshow due to the antics of playboy Ayres.

FORMBY IN 'LET GEORGE DO IT'

George Formby's latest laugh riot, "Let George Do It," is to be seen at the Oak Bay Theatre today. Britain's favorite comedian indulges in some counter-espionage in this new Ealing production which not only provides moments of real suspense, but loads of delightful and novel comedy situations.

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE QUICKLY RELIEVED

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Modern Pharmacy or Cunningham Drug Stores, and use it as directed. This formula, which is used internally, is a small, easy to use tablet, which quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the hemorrhoids. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a small remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money. Adv.

Pupils to Write Essay on Water

Saanich Council at its meeting last night approved Councillor E. C. Warren's proposal that an essay contest, with cash prizes, be held in the three high schools on the proposed new waterworks system for the municipality, to cost roughly $350,000.

It was the general opinion of the councillors that this would be an excellent way to familiarize Saanich ratepayers with details of the project.

Councillor Warren is planning a series of addresses on the project to cover all wards and high school pupils wishing to enter the contest must attend one of the meetings and write their essays from the councillor's talk. The meeting the entrants attend must be written on their papers.

The essays are to be presented in 1,000 words or less. Prizes are: First $10, second $7.50, and third, $5.

The prize-winning essays will be mimeographed and each pupil will be given one to take home so that parents can become fully informed of the project. A committee of judges will be appointed and the closing date of the competition, along with a schedule of talks planned by Councillor Warren, announced later.

The council's application for a reduced interest rate from 4 1/2 to 4 per cent on its annual loan from the Bank of Montreal, brought a reply from G. Hamilton Harman, manager. "Regret we are unable to accede to your wishes. The bank felt the rate now in effect was a very favorable one—in fact the minimum for municipalities of similar standing."

The council voted to co-operate in the practice blackout for Greater Victoria. A letter was read from Captain William Ellis, civilian protection officer, on the matter.

Begg Motor Company's tender to supply the municipal health department with a new coupe was accepted. Price of the new car is $1,250, but $500 was allowed on the old car. A committee will consider 39 applications for the position of part-time stenographer for the health department.

Salvage Corps of B.C. was granted permission to use the old B.C. Electric street car barn on Cloverdale Avenue for the storage of salvage collected in Saanich and elsewhere in Greater Victoria. A. H. Pease, organizer, spoke to the council on the matter. He promised that a full-time caretaker would be on hand at the building.

Tenders will be called for insurance on Saanich automobile equipment and also for automobile nonownership liability insurance for all municipal employees. Tenders must be filed with the municipal clerk, Royal Oak, not later than April 18 at 5 in the evening.

Rate of pay for casual labor in Saanich was set at $3.80 a day.

SCHOOL CONCERT

Last night in their school auditorium, the pupils of Victoria West School presented a concert of song, dance and comedy before a crowded audience.

The entertainment consisted of four large events. The first was done by pupils of Division 4, who gave excerpts from Gilbert and Sullivan's "H.M.S. Pinafore." The children, dressed in sailor costume, sang the light airs that have made the operetta famous. In this scene eight pupils danced the sailors' hornpipe.

"Tom Thumb Gets Married," an amusing parody on a marriage ceremony, drew many laughs. The laugh-provoking deviations from the true word of the ceremony, and the actions of all in the scene, proved popular with the audience.

The most impressive item on the program was the part "A Cavalcade of Democracy," in which all parts of the British Empire and Greece and China were represented. Seen on this bill were Gretz Molin as Britannia, her 10 girl attendants, boys dressed in soldier costumes of different British eras, and girls dressed in costumes representative of different parts of the Empire, dancing and singing. A family scene, in which the father narrated the history of Great Britain, came as a prologue to the cavalcade.

The last piece in the evening's entertainment was a negro sketch. Singing, dancing and joking marked this part of the show. Miss Barbara Fraser was piano accompanist to the singing and dancing parts.

There will be a meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Boys' Work Committee at the "Y" building at 7.20 this evening.

Cathedral Grove
PORT ALBERNI (CP)—Hon. A. Wells Gray, Provincial Minister of Lands, declared in an address here last night he would do all in his power to see that Cathedral Grove, scenic timber stand near Cameron Lake, was not destroyed, but said he could not promise the grove would be preserved.

He urged co-operation by the public in reducing forest fires and wasteful picking of wild flowers. He said 4,000,000 new trees were being planted on Vancouver Island in a reforestation plan and he felt another tree nursery should be established.

Mr. Gray defended Premier Pattullo's stand on the Siros report, declaring adoption of the plan would have placed the province in the hands of a financial committee at Ottawa.

Box Kites Rose to Heights Above Four Miles

Kites have been used to learn the temperature of the air at different points above the earth. This seems to have been done first in England in the year 1749. That was three years before Franklin used a kite to learn something about lightning.

Since that time, kites in great number have been sent up with instruments of one kind or another. They have been used to test winds as well as temperature.

Starting in 1894, more than 200 tests were made with kites flown at Boston over Blue Hill. It was found that the air kept getting cooler and cooler the farther up a kite went. For each 180 feet in the first mile, a drop of one degree was observed on the average. That meant a change of a little more than 29 degrees in one mile.

Those results were for days in which the kites did not go through clouds. Clouds keep the temperature of the upper air from dropping so fast.

Kites with hundreds of shapes have been built, but the biggest change took place about half a century ago. That was the making of box kites.

A box kite has the shape of a long box. It has open ends and usually there is a wide space in the middle.

For a distance of a few miles above the ground, winds tend to grow stronger. This is not true in the stratosphere, but below the stratosphere it is true to a great degree.

So when a kite goes to the height of two miles or more, it is likely to meet with high winds. The lifting power of wind striking a box kite at such height would break a common cord. For this reason, thin wire—especially piano wire—has come into wide use instead of fibre cord.

Many kites have gone to heights of two or three miles. In one case a group of 10 box kites rose to a height of four and one-half miles. While those kites were flying, thin steel wire eight and a half miles long was played out.

Hargrave, box kite pioneer, proved that his box kites could lift a man from the ground during a test in Australia. Five or six box kites may be used in that stunt. On the other hand, a single kite of great size may do the trick. In 1894 Capt. E. F. Baden-Powell built a 38-foot kite and with it lifted a man. Three years later a man rose to a height of 40 feet under box kite power.

Red Cross Relief For Bomb Victims

Canadian Red Cross relief for victims of Nazi bomb raids in Great Britain has an estimated value of almost $2,000,000, according to Norman Sommerville, K.C., Toronto, chairman of the Central Red Cross Council.

The most recent request for help in this connection has come from the War Services Branch of the National Defence. It concerns surgical instruments and supplies of which there is a great shortage because of the number of hospitals bombed. Approximately $50,000 has been spent by the Canadian Red Cross on replacements of these.

Another recent request was for 36 fully equipped large kitchen canteens costing more than $110,000 for bombed areas. These canteens, supplied at the special request of the Ministry of Food, are not mere coffee wagons but each is built upon a four-ton chassis.

At least 83,750 blankets and quilts, of which half are being used by war victims in the air raid shelters of London, and the remainder in other parts of Britain, have been provided by the Canadian Red Cross Society.

CANADIAN OPEN GOLF
TORONTO (CP)—B. L. Anderson, secretary of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, announced yesterday the Canadian open championship will be played at suburban Lambton Club, August 7, 8 and 9. The purse will be $3,300.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

ANSWER: There is no word.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a girl of 17, the child of divorced parents, and must soon make up my mind which one I choose to live with. My father has married again and has a second child whom he adores. By the terms of the divorce I have had to visit my father twice a month, but when I do his wife makes things very unpleasant for me during my stay. My father says that if I choose to live with my mother he will forget he ever had a daughter. My mother has not married again and has a little business which supports her quite comfortably. I love both my parents and I don't want to give either of them up, but I am getting so I can't stand the continual abuse of each other that my parents force me to listen to. What do you think I had better do?

ANSWER: Poor little girl, having to suffer so for the sins of your parents! Another pathetic reminder that in the wreck of every home that is pulled down by the passions and weaknesses and lack of self-control of people with children, there lies buried the happiness and well being of the innocent little victims.

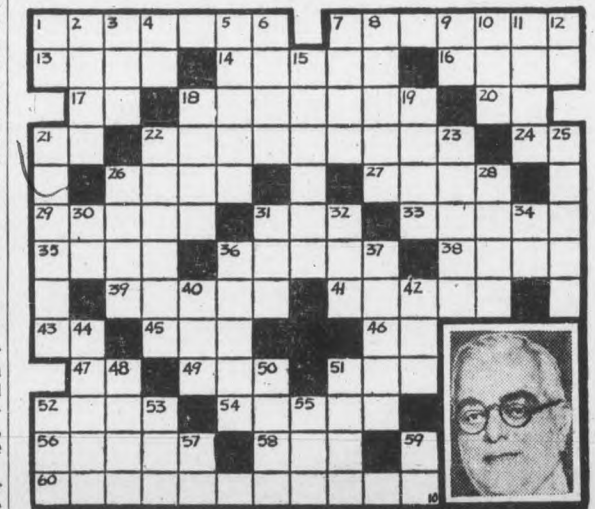

In making your choice between your parents, Anna, you must be guided by your own instincts. Go to the one you love best and to the household in which you find the greatest peace and happiness. But make your selection dependent upon a solemn promise from the parent you go to never to say another word of abuse about the other one.

If your stepmother is jealous of you and resents your even visiting your father, I should think there would be small chance of your finding anything but misery in that household. At any rate, comfort yourself with this thought—that if you are 17 you will soon be able to go out on your own and visit between your mother and father as you please. So you will not have to give up either one for long.

I urge you to begin at once to fit yourself for some occupation by which you can make yourself independent.

DOROTHY DIX.
